Dedication—

To a body of men, who have long worked and sacrificed for this college, and who have only recently executed a campaign which has made the institution financially solid; to a group of men, of whom, for their prestige, for their personal qualities, and for their loyalty to Marietta, all those connected with this college are justly proud; to an executive body, the equal of which is enjoyed by few colleges;

TO THE TRUSTEES OF MARIETTA COLLEGE

do we humbly and respectfully dedicate this book.

WILLIAM W. MILLS

Secretary and Treasurer of The Board of Trustees

Tears, Idle Tears

Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean,
Tears from the depth of some divine despair
Rise in the heart and gather in the eyes,
In looking on the happy Autumn-fields,
And thinking of the days that are no more.

Ah, bitter tears that my tumultous brain
In thoughts of college days long past recalls,
Yet sweetened full as fragrance sweetens flowers
By half-forgotten faces painted o'er
In memory of the days that are no more.

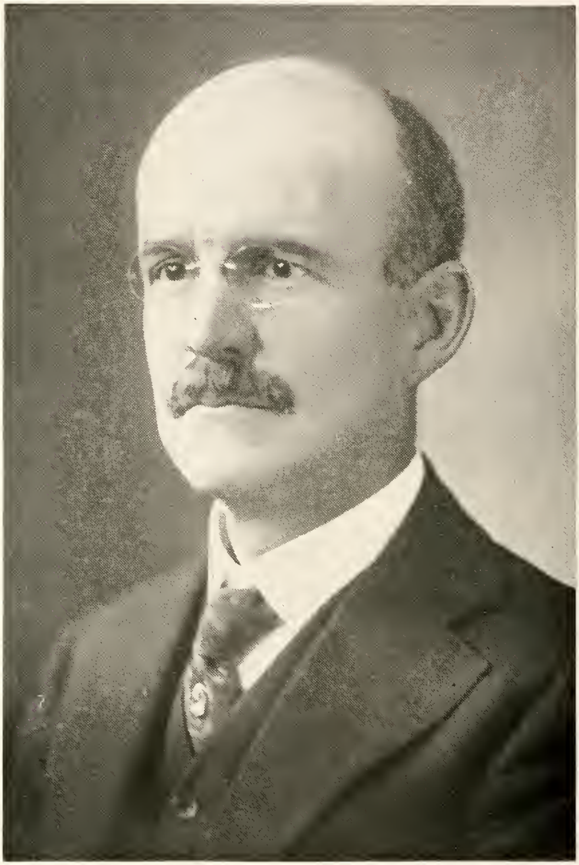
From crest to crest of former deeds restored,
In seas of dreams, my fancy unrestrained
Is carried back to that elm'd campus dear,
With sun and shadow colored in my mind,
And there I yearn for days that are no more.

What hopeless grief pulls at my wretched heart,
When I recall the child-round face of her
Whose virgin love was mine, first found
Without those honored buildings ivy clad;
A love still burns from days that are no more.

Dear as rememb'red kisses after death,
And sweet as those by hopeless fancy feign'd
On lips that are for others; deep as love,
Deep as first love, and wild with all regret;
O Death in Life, the days that are no more.

ADMINISTRATION

TRUSTEES



EDWARD S. PARSONS

President of the Board of Trustees

RUFUS C. DAWES, '86
Evanstown, Ill.

Mr. Dawes is president of any number of gas an delectrict companies scattered over the country, but finds time to mix in politics too. He is at present delegate to the State Constitutional Convention of Illinois. Busy as he is, however, he never forgets Marietta College, as is shown by his many gifts of both time and money. The set of band instruments is one of them. As an undergraduate he never missed a prize or an honor, and after taking the first prizes in the Freshman Entrance and Junior Rhetorical Contests, he graduated as Valedictorian of his class. He was on the college eleven at one time, and according to an early Mariettan was a member of the Delta Upsilon Chess Club.

CHARLES G. DAWES, '84
Chicago, Ill.

If there is one thing that Brig. Gen. Dawes is sure to do, it is to say what he means in no insipid way. But as the Babylonian cylinder says, "Alas, the times are not what they once were," for we read this in the 1881 "Mariettian" under Gen. Dawes' name: "Give thy thoughts no tongue." Now we behold him in one of the highest and most difficult positions in the country, Director of the Budget of the United States. As General Purchasing Agent for the A. E. F. in the great war he was awarded the D. S. M., the Order of Leopold, the Croix de Guerre, the Order of the Bath and made Commander of the Legion of Honor.

THE Associate Editor assumes full responsibility for the absence of Mr. Wolfe's picture from this page' Left in full charge of the Mariettena in the middle of the summer he failed to find hair nor hide of the cut. Because of the lateness of the appearance of the book, it was thought inadvisable to hold up the work. We are very sorry this ocurred and hope Mr. Wolfe's support of the "Old School" will not be lessened by this act of an inexperienced editor.

MR. W. H. WOLFE

Mr. W. H. Wolfe, better known to his College classmates as "Billie", is an Attorney in Parkersburg. Immediately, on leaving Marietta College he entered Columbia University for his post-graduate and professional training, receiving the degree of Master of Arts and Bachelor of Laws from that Institution. Mr. Wolfe then entered upon the practice of Law in Parkersburg where he has been ever since. Mr. Wolfe is a public-spirited citizen. He was City Attorney from 1909 to 1911. He is actively connected with every forward looking movement of civic and social welfare in his home city and always remembers the interests of Marietta College which he actively represents in the city of Parkersburg.

CHARLES PENROSE
Marietta, Ohio.

Mr. Penrose, although a business man by calling, is now retired from active business. He is a booster for Marietta, is Treasurer of the Red Cross, and interested in any movement for civic betterment. He is another of our Trustees who is not a graduate of the College, but whose possible value to it was early realized and he was accordingly made one of its governing body. Now getting on in years, he has withdrawn from active participation in college affairs, but as a mark of unusual respect the Trustees would not accept his resignation from that body and have even re-elected him for another term.

PAUL SCOTT, '90

Huntington, W. Va.

When Mr. Scott delivered the Class Oration in 1890, the Historian called him "A sounding of brass and a tinkling symbol," but he has since shown that Historian that there was something more than a sound or a tinkle in his oratory, for he is now recognized as one of West Virginia's leading lawyers. As a member of Alpha Kappa he gained the training that has helped him to follow his profession in Huntington ever since he left college. He is not able to return to Marietta often but he maintains an active interest in the college and his class, of which he was President in his Sophomore year.

THOMAS J. JONES, '98

Columbus, Ohio.

"Learned without sense and venerably dumb," Mr. Jones served as court marker, (officially elected) of the Alpha Sigma Phi Tennis Club, according to another "Mariettana." Field Captain of the Senior Class and Vice President of the Psi Gamma, he said of co-education: "It makes me more enthused." But none of this seems to account for the fact that he is now President of the Columbus Gas and Fuel Company, a Director and Assistant Secretary and Treasurer of the Pure Oil Company, and President of the Federal Gas and Fuel Company. Nor does it account for his wide interests in oil and gas companies from Michigan to Texas.

WALTER A. WINDSOR, '10

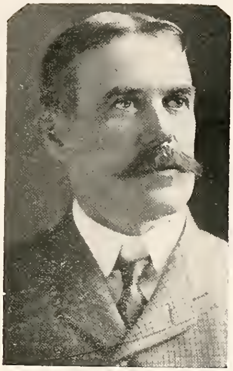
Point Pleasant, W. Va.

Mr. Windsor attended the Fort School and Marietta Academy before he entered college in 1906. He was elected President of the Student Organization in his Senior year, as well as President of Psi Gamma, and proceeded then to take a Degree of LL. B. at the Harvard Law School. He has disappointed his class Historian, who predicted that by 1923 he would be a famous statesman, as he is now the President of the Marietta Manufacturing Company, which he organized at Marietta. In 1916 he moved his firm to Point Pleasant where he has developed it into one of the finest plants building marine equipment in the country

ROY B. NAYLOR, '92

Wheeling, W. Va.

Mr. Naylor is in the insurance business, being District Agent of the Travelers' Insurance Company of Hartford, one of the oldest and largest companies in the country. He was in the newspaper business for 14 years and was Secretary of the Wheeling Board of Trade for many years. Besides his insurance business he is an active citizen of Wheeling, being Director of the Assocciated Charities and Chairman of the Municipal Recreation Commission.



MR. T. J. SUMMERS

T. J. Summers has served well both the College and the Alumni Association. He was made Trustee in 1909 and still serves. During a portion of that period he has been on the Executive Committee. For eighteen years he has been the faithful Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer of the Alumni Association, retiring in 1922 upon his election to the Presidency of that body. Mr. Summers is a lawyer. He served four years as Attorney for the city of Marietta. He is now a United States Commissioner. In educational and literary circles, Mr. Summers is best known by his very painstaking and complete work, "The History of Marietta", published in 1902.

THOMAS H. KELLY, '74

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. Kelly has had a hand in the affairs of the college since 1898, being one of Marietta's older Trustees. At present he is a lawyer in Cincinnati, of the firm of Kelly & Remke. He has always taken especial interest in Marietta's athletic teams, and he illustrated his loyalty to the college when he treated the 1920 football team to a dinner dance, given in his own home, after our team had walloped the Bear Cats 28-0. A staunch supporter of the college in all of the ideals for which it stands; he has always been glad to do his part to make it a better institution.

EDWARD MAC TAGGART, '92

Marietta, Ohio.

It was with the keenest regret that the students and friends of Marietta College learned of the resignation of Mr. MacTaggart from the Board of Trustees. Even before he had been elected to that Board he had served the college faithfully for many years as an unofficial worker and it was through his financial assistance that our 1920 "Wonder Team" was able to finish a successful career. From Vice President of Alpha Kappa in his Junior year, to the present President of the Marietta Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, he has held many positions of honor and responsibility and has contributed to everything that has helped to build and strengthen the college.

CHARLES A. WARD, '90

Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Ward is President of the Dayton Gas Company and Editor of the well-known Pure Oil News, which has it all over the Orphan. He has fulfilled the Mariettian's statement that he had a "mind producing wonders," after he had graduated as well as before, and is now among the leaders in the oil and gas business. He has also mixed in the newspaper game and in politics, having been a newspaper publisher in Wisconsin and later Postmaster at Marietta. He has a sense of humor that could make a faculty meeting worth while. He has taken an active part in keeping the Alumni Association going and had a large part in making the Endowment Campaign a success.

BENJAMIN F. STRECKER

Marietta, Ohio.

Mr. Strecker is one of our Trustees who did not attend Marietta College but who has nevertheless taken a profound interest in her affairs. He is one of Marietta's most prominent citizens, being President of the Citizens' National Bank, the same of the Strecker Brothers' Saddlery Company and holding many other positions fo honor and responsibility. President of the Public Library Association and President of the Y. M. C. A., he makes himself felt in every civil and religious movement of the community.

EDWY R. BROWN, '94

Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Brown is located in the territory of the great oil boom, having followed the oil game from Cleon, New York, to Dallas, Texas. He has worked his way from the Treasurer of the Freshman Class at Marietta College to Vice President and General Manager of the Magnolia Petroleum Company. Too far from Marietta to visit her often, he represents her interests in the far Southwest and keeps her in touch with that part of the country. His value in this line is indicated in the fact that he is a Trustee of four other colleges of the country.

EDWIN F. ROREBECK, '95
New York City.

Mr. Rorebeck has spent most of his life in finance and has just recently been appointed Special U. S. Bank Examiner for New York City. He is also Vive President of the Metropolitan Trust Company of New York, besides being interested in several other enterprises. Mr. Rorebeck is not an infrequent visitor at Marietta, and can always be relied upon to support every move made by the college. It is interesting to learn that he originated the college yell, and according to his own story this was the only grounds the Trustees could find for which they could vote him a degree.

MR. JOHN MILLS

Mr. John Mills has lived all his life in Marietta. Being too young to enter the service of the United States as a soldier, at the opening of the Civil War, he was active during this period in organizing Home Guards. Upon his graduation in 1867, he entered the Business Field. He has been actively connected with the Marietta Chair Company since 1867, serving as its president since 1882. He has been a director of the First National Bank since 1886. Mr. Mills has served also as a member of the City Council and a Trustee of the Water Works for a long period of years. He was made a Trustee of Marietta College in 1910.

H. C. VAN VOORHIS

Zanesville, Ohio.

Mr. Van Voorhis is lawyer, Congressman and banker. Practicing law for some years, he gave that up to become President of the Old Citizens' National Bank. Later he became interested in politics and served for 12 years in Congress, when he again returned to his bank, of which he is now President. Not a graduate of the College, he has shown great interest in its development and progress and has done much to further its name.

As usual he returned this commencement and delivered a fine speech at the Alumni banquet.

MR. CHARLES H. NEWTON

Mr. Newton, a faithful member of the class of '63, has been Auditor of the College for many years and always faithful to his duties. He has been a staunch member of the Presbyterian Church of Marietta since its founding in 1865. Enlisting soon after his graduation from College, he served throughout the remainder of the Civil War as a Second Lieutenant of Light Artillery. Mr. Newton is faithful also in attending every encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. He was chosen Grand Commander of the Department of Ohio in 1909.

History of the Class of 1922

The year after America entered the War, the Class of 1922 entered Marietta College. Shortly thereafter the majority of our number were duly enrolled in the Student's Army Training Corps, an organization whose moral influence must have hastened the close of the war for it was but a few months until peace was declared and the regular routine of college life, minus the military training, was restored.

The time passed quickly. Almost before we realized it, we were Freshmen no longer; we were Sophomores—looking for freshmen. We found them and an interchange of courtesies resulted, not couched in the most gentle and courteous language. President Parsons was haled into court. The culmination of it all, "Case is dismissed," demonstrates the influence which our colleges exert on the civic life of the country. On the occasion of Cap and Gown Day a stunt which happened in 1912 was repeated—a cow was ushered into Chapel and out again. The close of that year witnessed the first efforts towards the establishment of Student Self-Government. During this year the absorption of Alpha Digamma by the national fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega, also occurred.

In our Junior year (perhaps it was because the task of our education had been such a difficult and expensive one) the College inaugurated an Endowment Campaign, in due time, was brought to a successful completion. Cap and Gown Day again brought a cow into Chapel and out again, but this time it was a beaver board cow. Again Pres. Parsons feetured. Other events of interest during our Junior year were the founding of the Omicron Delta Sorority, the founding of the Tau Sigma Tau Fraternity, and the initial steps toward the formation of an Inter-Fraternity Council.

Our Senior year has been comparatively uneventful. One thing worthy of mention is the revival of the College humorous paper, the Orphan, in which several members of the class have been instrumental. Three of our number, Kenneth Ward, Lawrence Smith and Carlos Dawes, are completing their college course in three years

In the forward development of the College the Class of '22 has taken a prominent part. But our history is only a small factor in the larger history of the College. We have added another chapter to the ever-continning history of the College. We hope that each succeeding chapter will be better and better and that our efforts may help in this advancement.

I. A. JOHNSON.

ALBERT S. CHAPPELEAR
"Bud"
Nu Phi
Dennison High School.
"Nothing can cover his high fame but heaven."

Sh!!—That's Bud Chappelear, the president of the Junior Class. Take off yer hats youse guys, he's gonna maybe be presidunt of the United States someday. And when that day comes we'll all cheer for joy——because then he won't anylonger be president of the Junior Class. While Chappy has had his hands full fulfilling the burdensome duties of executive premier of the class he is still on the baseball team, and I hear he hurls a wicked ball. He engineered the Junior Prom and of course he's a member of the Y. M.

JOSEPH M. STURGISS
"Doc"
Alpha Sigma Phi
Salem High School
Marietta High School

Joe makes his appearance with the band. In the heat of the battle whenever a comrade clarinetist drops, it is always "Little Joe" that snatches up the fallen instrument and blows his college to victory. Doc puts a notch in his clarinet for every ten persons who he overcomes with the noise. In two years he has filled three clarinets, and estimates his kill at several thousand. But even though there is lots of noise to him, there is enough else to merit his position as Vice President of the present class.

"Indeed, society is wholesome for the character."

THELMA ADAMSON

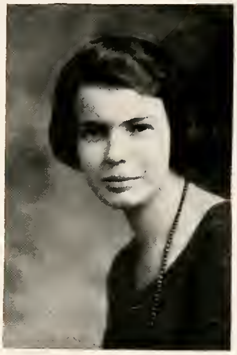
"Ted"

Alpha Nu Sigma

Marietta High School

"Pep" should have been "Ted's" name for she is never still a minute. She plays basketball like a whizz, debates like an oldtimer, and dances—well, she just exists till a good orchestra comes to town. . Next to all these things, her passion is for hats, any kind, any shape, any color. And anthropology is her favorite subject By one look at you she can tell who your ancesters were. Don't ask unless you really want to know and don't mind if she tells the truth.

"A Sophistical rhetorician, inebriated with the exuberance of her own verbosity."



RAE BROWN ANKENBRAND

"Ray"

Omicron Delta

Marietta High School.

"But lo the bird had flown."

Pink rivers and orchid onion beds—she are flown, she has went—But it's not that distorted. On the contrary, now that we have thought it over after the first waves of excitement have subsided, it seems quite the natural thing. In fact, we even wonder how she witheld for so long a time as this. But it does bring it pretty close home, doesn't it. However, Mrs. Ankenbrand still remains an active member of the orchestra, as well as the Y. W. C. A.

THERON ARTHUR

"Jock"

Nu Phi

Jackson High School.

"What ever any one says or does, I must be good?"

Yes, you must be good, but the position in which you place us is not a very secure one. If we were to describe you to the sheriff we should start, chin, round; forehead, low, etc.,—But we forgot how good you are. Say we should describe you to a flapper, ah—but neither do we that when we are good? Nevertheless, Theron is one boy who minds his own business even if the writer doesn't.

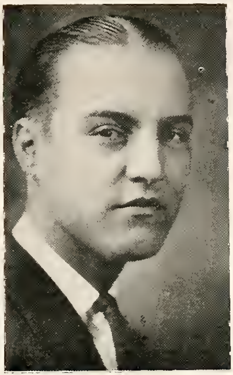
HARRY N. AZAR

"Nick"

Alpha Tau Omega

Sistersville High Cchool

Harry is one of the best looking men of the class. He has been heard to remark that if beauty was only skin deep the sooner they skinned him the better. But though Nick would hardly pass in a crowd, he's a musician, and his music hath charms. Therefore he blew away two perfectly good clarinets in the band, and his conscience hurt him so, he joined the Y. M. He is also a member of the Swords and Sabers Club, and plays a little basketball. The A. T. O.s think enough of him to make him their President. "Limburger cheese, sir, hath its virtues."



FAY THOMAS BARTON
"Heavy"
Delta Upsilon
Point Pleasant High School

We were tempted to say of Fay, "His form was fashioned like an airy moonbeam," but we knew that he would read it. Like all good men he is a member of the Y. M. C. A., and has done some very constructive work in the Inter-Fraternity Council. As he has already formed business connections that keep him pretty busy, his work as Property Manager of the Players' Club and on the Mariettana Board is remarkable. We'll back him up every time for we know he'll make good.

"Skill and endurance are an invincible couple."

RUFUS DAWES BEACH
"Rufy"
Delta Upsilon
"I never knew so young a body with so old a head."

At the good old age of 18 Rufus has been elected Junior member of Phi Beta Kappa. But before that there is a long story proving him to be a writer, speaker, legislator, scholar, musician and athlete, all in one. Thus: Assistant Athletic Editor Olio, (1); Athletic Editor, (2); Associate Editor (3); Editor Elect, (4); First Prize Freshman Declamation Contest; Second Hyde Scholarship Prize, (2); First Hyde Scholarship Prize, (3); Class Vice President, (2); Student Council, (2-4); Vice President French Club, (2); Band, (2-3); String Club, (2-3).

GRACE BENGEL

"G"

Omicron Delta

Marietta High School

"'Twere death to live without him."

Grace has a quiet, gentle look, but appearances are often deceiving, and when she gets in an alcove (first one to the left) the librarian is certain to be around soon to give a little lecture on the observance of library rules. When you see Grace you always think of the epitaph, "Romeo's the dark one, Juliet's the fair." Grace says her idea of happiness is a bungalow in Rathbone (or Williamstown), and it is our opinion that she'll attain it before long.

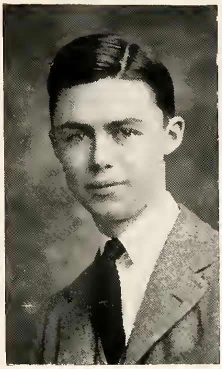
LILLIAN BRACHMAN

"Lill"

Marietta High School

"Fair hair and a smile that counts."

Pennsylvanian College for Women held Lillian for a year but then, after thinking it over well, she came back to Marietta. She liked Pittsburgh all right, but not as well as Marietta. Her hobby is driving and we do not blame her when we see her machine. Anyone would like to drive that. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A.



ETHEL BROWN
"B"

Beta Theta
Marietta High School

"I laugh and the world laughs with me."

Ethel began her education at Margaret Morrison School at Pittsburgh, but one year saw her back at old M. C. to join our Sophomore Class. We hardly see how the musical comedies survived before she came to town. She knows them all and always helps to swell the crowd. Her laugh is the jolliest on the campus and it never fails you when you've told a joke, poor as it may be. She is a member of Beta Theta Sorority.

THEODORE F. CARLISLE
"Ted"
Delta Upsilon
Ashtabula High School

"The generous man enriches himself by giving."

It took Teddy a year at Ohio State to discover the advantages of a small college and when he came to Marietta as the best of the small ones, he immediately became active in every phase of college life. His melodious voice sang forth on the Glee Club for two years and the String Club made him Business Manager, even tho' he did play well for them on his guitar. He took second prize in the Sophomore Oratorical Contest and was on the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet in the same year

ROBERT LEE CLARK
"Bob"
Tau Sigma Tau
Marietta High School
"A smile that lights the whole world round."

The College Band has held a place open for Bob for the last two years and will be lost if he doesn't put it on its feet again next year. Bob's piccolo has also piped its way onto the Varsity Orchestra for two years, and Bob's voice has piped its way onto the Glee Club. Not only a musician of notes, but an actor as well, he has taken part in a number of the Players' Club productions for the several years. Next year there are other activities awaiting his sunny disposition.

HUBERT D. COLLINS
"Colic"
Alpha Tau Omega
Williamstown High School
"Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit."

Hubert has been active in Inter-Fraternity Athletics and has appeared on the Basketball floor, gridiron and diamond since he was a Freshman. He has run the long distances for the Track Team, and has been on the Football Squad twice. He is a clever manipulator of the foil and broadsword on the Swords and Sabers Club. He has been an able assistant to the Business Manager in collecting ads for the Mariettana and is Advertising Manager for the book.

GEORGE LEAMAN COWELL

"Cow Bell"

Tau Sigma Tau

Marietta High School

"It is a hard nut to crack."

George is a boy who knows what he is talking about when he does talk. Unlike his illustrious predecessor, the Cow Bell, he has something more than noise and jangle. Thus he is somewhat of a speaker. He picks his way along in the String Club, and played some mean baseball on the Tau Sig Team this spring.

WALTER G. CRANDALL

"Shorty"

Alpha Tau Omega
Marietta High School

"A town that boasts of men like me
Can have no lack of good society."

Shorty took a willing hand in the Frosh-Soph scraps for two years (or was it three?) At any rate, he played on the class teams of '19 and '20. He played Varsity Basketball as a Freshman, and has appeared on the Basketball floor at intervals between his ineligible periods ever since. He used his influence in the Inter-Fraternity Council this year to make that body better suited to Marietta College.

CLARENCE D. CROW
"Jim"
Delta Upsilon
Moundsville High School

"Everything is soothed by oil."

'Midst the sounding of cymbals and brass trumpets did Jim Crow come to Marietta. And such was his noise that he was immediately made cheer leader for two consecutive years, a position which he filled with high honors. At the same time he beat along with the band, and he certainly wields a mean drum stick. He was active in hair-cutting escapades, but when he played in the Fresh-Soph Football Contest both years, he still had his oily locks. This year he surprised us all by making his "M" in Tennis.

MARY REBECCA DANA "Becky"
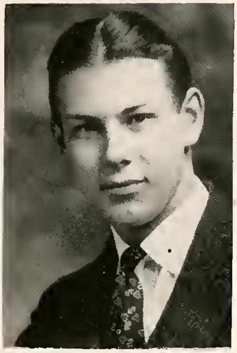
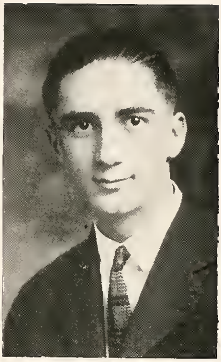
Marietta High School

"Still water runs deepest."

Becky is one of the sort who can do most anything without any excess noise and confusion. However that doesn't apply to actions in Library as the librarian will claim. She was on the Y. W. Cabinet in her Freshman year, an honor few Freshman attain, and has always helped boost the local branch. She was a charter member of Omicron Delta Sorority and as President in '21, has placed the sorority among the regular organizations of the College. She is on the Marriettana Board.





CARLOS B. DAWES
"Dawsie"
Delta Upsilon
Columbus Academy
Lawrenceville (N. J.) School

This is the one who is responsible for the late appearance of the Mariettana. A variety of activities have characterized his three-year collegiate career. Thus: Mariettana Artist, (1); Editor-in-Chief, (3); Football Squad, (1); Assistant Business Manager Olio, (2); Art Editor, (3); Business Manager Orphan, (3); Business Manager Players' Club, (2-3); Republican Campaign Manager, (2); Class Football, (2);

"A solemn youth with sober phiz
Who eats his grub and minds his biz."

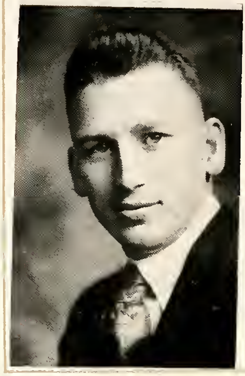
MENDEL DECKER
"Deck"
Barb Club
Ashbury College Academy,
Wilmore, Ky.

"Above the vulgar flight of common souls."

But even at that you will not have trouble in meeting Mendel face to face on common ground. This boy hails from Titusville, Pa., from which he saw that the qualities of Marietta were high. He has spent his college life in the dormitory and there he makes it interesting for the Fayerweather boys. He has had a hand in many pranks that resulted in someone's room being slightly mussed.



ORIS GLEN DENT

"O"

Nu Phi

Marietta High School

"Nothing is difficult to a willing mind."

Glen is a boy whom one does not see about much. The natural conclusion is that he is a hard worker on matters that are not immediately concerned with the College. But while he tends strictly to his studies and to his business, he still has found time to do some good work on the Mariettana Board and in the Players' Club.

HARRY L. DUNCAN

"Dunc"

Nu Phi

Moundsville High School

"He is a man who acts like a man."

So blessings on thee, little man, for though little, Harry is a man from the word go. We remember the first Varsity Football game he got into. He brought down a two hundred pounder on the first kick off, even though it did lay him out. He worked his way through all competitors to Football Manager elect. And he was on the Student Council this year, and is again elected. As a Freshman he was Vice President of the class, is in the Y. M. and was on the Sophomore Frolique Committee.

FLORENCE DUNN
"Punkin"
Beta Theta
Marietta High School
"Oh, those dreamy eyes."

Even the girls like little Marietta after they have been to Ohio State. So after Punkin had stuck it out for two years there, she packed her grip (or perhaps it wasn't a grip) for old M. C. While she was away she became a member of the Sorority and the Beta Thetas here were quick to see her charm. Some say she looks like a Spanish senorita, but no one considers her as dangerous, else she wouldn't be so popular.

DORIS MARIE FENN
"Do"
Omicron Delta
Marietta High School
"Blue eyes and a smile to suit."

Doris says that little sisters are the worst pest she knows. We always thought it was the kid brother that made life miserable, but maybe not. Traveling salesmen are her specialty and there is a very attractive one concerned, so her Sorority sisters say. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A. and of Omicron Delta Sorority.

CURTIS FINCH

"Curt."

Nu Phi.

Vincent High School.

"I have no mockings or arguments, I witness and wait."

Watchful waiting may be all right as a policy, but we haven't noticed that Curt has been particularly severe in his application of it. For who could be elected to office through such a negative practice. And Curt was elected when he was a Freshman—and to the class presidency, too. As an orator, makes them all sit up and take notice—witness second prize, Freshman Oratorical Contest. Curtis is a member of the Y. M. and the Math Club.

RICHARD GOE

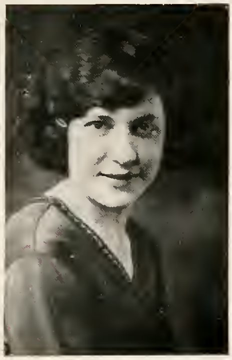
"Dick"

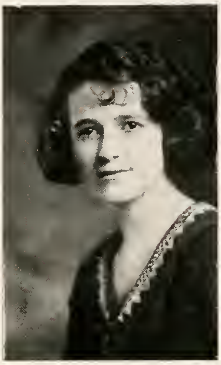
Alpha Sigma Phi.

Marietta High School.

"He has all the ten commandments in his face."

Dick joined the class after having wasted a year at Pennsylvania University. We say wasted, because we can only compare it with his years at Marietta. Dick started in the moment he registered to see what his tonic would do for the fraternity situation. The result ahs been the establishment of the inter-fraternity council with Dick at the head, and it has already shown its worth. We hope it's here to stay. Then Dick has a surprising little warble, pleasing one too. The Glee Club uses him naturally, and the Mariettana as a circulation manager.





ROSE GOLDISH
"Rosie"

Marietta High School

"Two's company, when you're congenial."

Rose has the original shade of black hair and eyes to match. She, too, craves excitement greater than Marietta can afford and intends to leave for parts unknown when she grows up. French is the only worry of her life and you can find her most any time with a stack of French novels under one arm. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A.

RACHEL GOLDISH
"Zelda"

Marietta High School

"For a whirl at the gay metropolis."

New York, the mecca of gay, is the only place to live, according to Rachel. She's tired of the quiet life and waits only to finish her college course to set out for the "bright lights." She never fails to boost for Marietta College, however, se we guess it isn't so slow. She is seen only in company with Rose, but who would not like such company? She is a member of the Y. W. C. A.

HANLEY A. HACKET

"Kid"

Tau Sigma Tau
St. Mary's Parochial High

"Men of few words are the best men."

This Marietta boy's chief delight is to fence. And he does it pretty well, being on the Swords and Sabers Club. And although he says but little among his friends, he was one of the contestants for the Sophomore Declamation Prize. In the Intra-Mural Track Meet he ran several long, hard miles for his Fraternity. All around, he is a good fellow to get along with.

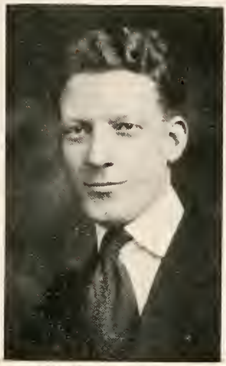
ILA BELLE JARVIS

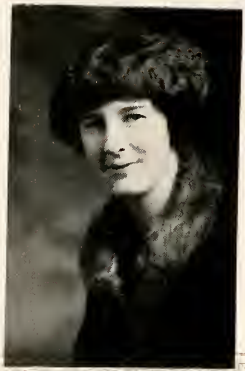
"Ily"

Parkersburg High School

"How I love those West Virginia hills."

Ila is an able partisan for Parkersburg, bue she likes Marietta College. She used to bluff Prof. Whipple into a good humor by telling him of the wonderful specimens to be found in her native burg, but they never materialized. She is a member of the Parkersburg Club, and proud of it, b'gosh. And that she is a real girl is shown by the fact that she says she doesn't like her picture.





RALPH KETTE
"Calhoun."
Barbs Club.
Gallipolis High School.

"His voice boomed forth the policies of stalwart Rome."

When Kette runs for his first term in the senate, we're planning one of those old time political parades with the torches and red lights, the bonfires and horns, and Ralph will stand before the eager mob with his hand in his coat, shoulders back, resting on one leg—like Napoleon—you've seen him. For Kette has already accepted our nomination to that position. He means to start at the bottom and work up

GLADYS KIDD
"Kid"
Beta Theta
Marietta High School

"I'll double two, no trump."

Gladys is the original bridge fiend Between classes one is apt to hear her suggesting a little game in the Y. W. room, sacred quarters. And she usually has it. She was a member of the Y. W. Cabinet in her Freshman year. She also helped on the Dansant Committee. She is another co-ed who worries the boys, one in particular, it seems. But such is life, and a Beta Theta.

BERTHA MAURINE KRIGBAUM
"Mickey"
Marietta High School
Beta Theta

"A luring jewel dropped unstained from heaven."

Maurine is one of the reasons fellows like a co-ed school. That is she was until a certain Alpha Sigma Phi monopolized all her attention and now its rumored that she "goes" all the time. The Dansant, the Sophomore Frolique and the Junior Prom all testify to her ability along social lines. She was Secretary and Treasurer of our class in '21 and '22, but still found time to help in Y. W. C. A. and to make life interestinng for Horace. She is a member of Beta Theta Sorority.

DONALD LeGOULLAN
"Don"
Tau Sigma Tau
Marietta High School.

"Genteel in personage, conduct, equipage."

Don has a nice little list of activities that he takes a great deal of interest in. For instance, fencing—the members of the Swords and Sabers Club elected him president. He is a member of the Math Club, and plays in the String Club. He is the Tau Sigma Tau representative of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

FRANK LEONE

"Leo"

Barbs Club

Dunkirk (N. Y.) High School

"No legacy is so rich as honesty."

Frank is one of the best liked men in College. In the recent Student Body elections he received more votes than any other candidate, and was elected by a good majority. He is kept busy by his public correspondence business, but still has time to go in for Intra-Mural Athletics. He was on his Freshman Football Team, as well as his Sophomore Team. Marietta has a fine fellow in this Dunkirk boy.

JAMES W. McKIBBEN

"Mac"

Tau Sigma Tau

Marietta High School

"Refer all theological questions to me."

Mac is studying for the Ministry, and already he has become a bona fide pastor on the Marietta Circuit. He follows up his profession by working among the younger boys of the town, instructing them in religious matters. He is Vice President of the Y. M. C. A. And you'd be surprised to hear him play the violin. He holds a regular position in the orchestra, and to show that he is an all-round musician he leads the band with his cornet. He comes to Marietta from Newport.

JOHN CARLTON MAYFIELD

"Jawn"

Alpha Sigma Phi
Middlebourne High School

"Of Journalistic trend was he."

Mayfield is the publicity man of his fraternity and the College. He gets all the little personals and human interest stories that occur (or don't occur) into the papers. When business is slow, he finds time to make a place for himself on the Varsity Baseball Team, and has been a twirler on the team for two seasons. He was Assistant Manager of the Basketball Team as a Soph and was Manager this year. He also plays a little in the fraternity games.

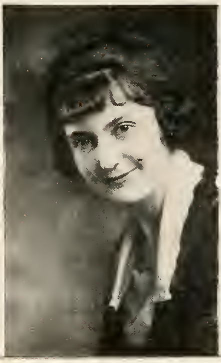
S. SCOLLAY MOORE

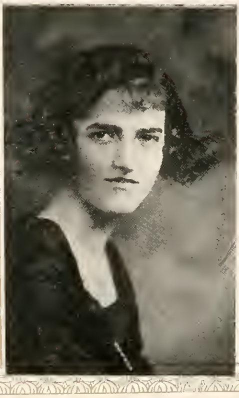
"Scolly"

Delta Upsilon
Episcopal High School
Parkersburg High School

"His great works do bespeak his character."

Scollay is another who has spent a year at Ohio State and then decided that Marietta is the best little college in the world, and fortunate for Marietta that he did discover that, for the Glee Club would not have found a better Manager, which position he has filled since his advent here. As Publicity Manager of the Players' Club he has taken over the duties of the Business Manager and will be the one to fill that place next year





HELEN NEWTON

"Snoot"
Beta Theta
Marietta High School

"To do all things well."

Snoot belongs to more organizations and committees than two or three ordinary people but she always has time to do whatever you want her to if it's nothing more than a trip down town. She was a member of the Dansant Committee of '20 and helped to make it a real dance. She was second in the Freshman-Sophomore Declamation Contest of her Freshman year. In 1921 as President of the Y. W. C. A. she helped to make the Y. W. an organization well known on the campus

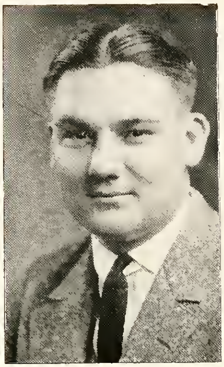
HELEN VIRGINIA PALMER

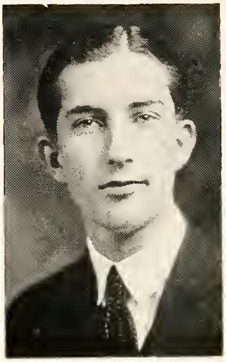
"Ginny"

Marietta High School

"Jet black hair and shining eye;
love me, honey, till I die."

Helen has a variety of interests and a host of friends. She is Secretary and Treasurer of the Student Body, the highest honor that can come to a co-ed; President of the Y. W. C. A. for '22, and with it all finds time to play a good game on the Girls' Basketball Team and to act in Players' Club. She has only one bad habit—she bobs her hair and then worries for fear it will not suit her new summer hat.





HERBERT REITER
Delta Upsilon
"Peck"
Steele High, Dayton, Ohio

"Come and trip it as ye go
On the light, fantastic toe."

There are two things that Peck xcells in—dancing and athletics. He has already made three letters on the Football Team and as many on the. Basketball Team This year he was Captain of the team and was high point man by a big margin, even though he did not play in all the games. He also made his letter in Baseball this spring. There is nothing he can be kept out of except through the faculty. He undoubtedly leads the Juniors in athletics.

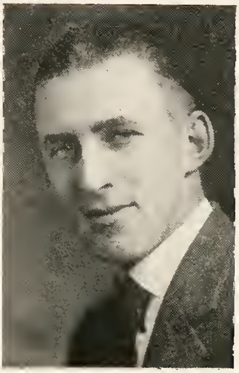
RAYMOND H. RUBRAKE

"Ruby"

Nu Phi

Lowell High School

has been the Nu Phi representa-
Raymond is one of the many Marietta boys who have connections outside of college that keep them pretty busy. He supplies the students with their necessities of the class room through the Marietta Book Store.



LILLIAN RUBY

"Lill"

Marietta High School

"She is of a young and modest nature."

Lillian's an optimist. If you hear someone grumbling you are sure to hear her say, "Oh well, maybe its not so bad," and it usually isn't. She's the sort of student that keeps Marietta advertised as an educational institution. She is a big help in Y. W. and works on any committee where she is needed.

ELDON H. SCHAFER

"Rosy"

Alpha Sigma Phi

Marietta High School

"An amiable soul wears well."

We almost lost Rosy in the Muskingum this spring, but due to the heroic efforts of his companions he was pulled out. Better luck next time, Rosy. But all joking aside, what, we ask, could the band do if it didn't have Rosy to play for them? We suppose it would get along pretty well, but of course we are no authorities on the matter. Eldon was Assistant Cheer Leader in '19 and is still living.

MARY SPIES

Alpha Nu Sigma

Parkersburg High School

"And my golden harp's a-singin' "

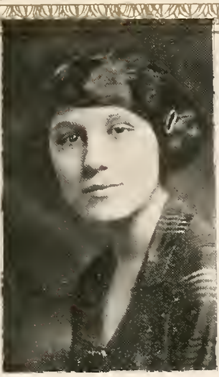
Mary plays the harp. Not a jewsharp, but the original article that makes music too good to be true. She journeyed to Cincinnati every week-end and now she's an accomplished musician. She's a miniature edition of the renowned Sallust himself. 'Nuf sed. We forgot to mention that she has curls and the most delicious giggle. In fact her curls are the biggest part of her.

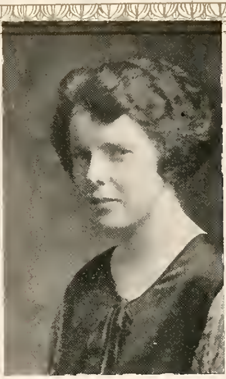
J. SELDON SPENCER

Barb's Club

Parkersburg High School

"One Vast Substantial Smile"





LILLIAN SPINDLER
"Lill"
Marietta High School

"Sober, steadfast and demure."

Lillian is the sole and only pianist of our All-Marietta "Happy Jack's Orchestra." And she makes the rest keep time and put over real dance music. But that's only one of her many abilities. She helps keep the office records straight and can tell you to the minute how many cuts you've had. She's a good all around sport and '23 is mighty proud of her. If you wish to learn more about her enter the Library and turn to the left, first alcove. She's a member of the Y. W. C. A.

LOUISE ALBERTA STOWE
"Lou"
Beta Theta
Marietta High School

"Such an air, such a grace, such a form, such a face."

All the world's a stage to Louise. Her ambition is to have her name in electric lights outside the theaters. And she certainly ought to attain it, for she is talented. She can sing and act and dance and play the piano. What more could Ziegfeld want? As a member of the Players' Club she took part in "The Tongue" and "Maker of Dreams." She was a member of the Dansant Committee, '20. Her hobby is pretty clothes—and, we almost forgot, men.

MARJORIE LOUISE STRECKER
"Peg"
Beta Theta
Marietta High School

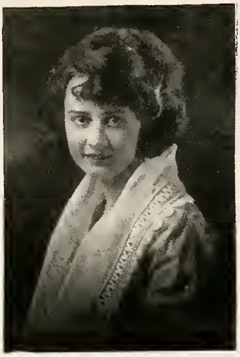
"To see her was to love her, and
to love but her forever."

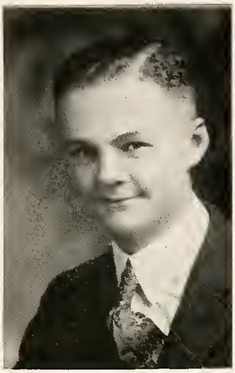
Peg has been around us so much that we wonder she is content to stay with us for four years. But we couldn't do without her. She managed the 1920 Dansant, the 1921 Sophomore Frolique, and the June Breakfast this Commencement. The Y. W. C. A. found Marjorie an ideal Secretary, and after making her Vice President, she is now President elect of that organization. As for the boys, well, two or three at a time is sufficient, she says. And there would be little opposition in making her the 1923 Mariettana Girl. Sure, she's on the Board.

C. ROLLYNN SULLIVAN
"Sully"
Alpha Tau Omega
Alliance High School

"Honor lies in honest toil."

Sully has more tenacity than any other man in College. He has worked with the Varsity Football Squad ever since he came to school. And it was on the gridiron that he won the name of "Bar Meat" when he likened himself as a scrub before the Varsity to that bait. He has been a regular on the Baseball Squad for two seasons and is one of the best pinch hitters we have. As a long-distance man for the track team, he has more than once dropped from exhaustion. That's the kind of man he is.





LILLIAN ELIZABETH SUMMERS

"Lill"

Marietta High School

"Earth has not anything to show more fair."

When we see Lillian we always see brown. Not that there's anything drab about Lillian. Far from it. Bright colors are her hobby. More than one poor man has fallen for her curls and big brown eyes. We're afraid she's fickle for she says her motto is, "Never run after a man, for, like a street car, another will be along in five minutes." At any rate she cannot manage her eyes. She has helped on all sorts of committees and the Y. W. always looks to Lillian for help.

LESLIE WARD

"Dutch"

Alpha Sigma Phi.

Marietta High School.

"A friend of dragons and a companion of owls."

Les gets more done with the least effort than anyone in these parts. You never see him in a hurry, and he stands around to talk a good deal. And yet there's not a more dependable man on the campus. That's why we judge that he is a companion of owls. He has been on the band for three years, and on the Glee Club for about as many. He was on the student council this year and has been elected again for another term. He is on the Inter-Fraternity Council and is a member of the String Club.

IRWIN WITHERS

"Shakespeare."
Alpha Tau Omega.
Parkersburg High School.
"As modest as he is intellectual."

"Shikspur? Shikspur? No, I never read Shikspur. Who wrote it?" That is just an example of the common man's knowledge of the great writer as compared to that of Irwin. He knows all of them. That's why we expect to see him no less that saludictorian next year. He is a member of the Glee Club this year, and was last year and the year before. You can't beat that. One of the old reliables of the Players' Club. Irwin has portrayed many a character with marked ability. He was on the Debate squad as a Freshman and last year a member of the French Club.

WALTER WYKLE

"Wyke."
Tau Sigma Tau.
Jackson High School.
"He warn't no saint—But at judgment I'd run my chance with him."

That is, if Wyke would go to heaven, for if hair is the only thing they hand out up there, it's no place for Wyke and I. No, sir, take me to a shady nook and have Wyke play his horn in soothing, flowing music, that will take only a short time to carry you off to sleep. Well, suppose you do take me and give me that kind of music. I'd call you a liar if you insisted that Wyke was playing it. The only way he could put any one to sleep with his horn would be to "sok" him over the head with it.

HAROLD B. YOUMANS
"Yomey"
Delta Upsilon
Marietta High School

"A handful of common sense is worth a bushel of book learning." Yomey is one of the best workers in the class, and consequently in the school. Starting out os Assistant Football Manager, he became Manager this year. He has been on three Gridiron Ball committees and was Assistant Cheer Leader as a Freshman. When no one appeared as Basketball Manager last year, Harold was there to grab it up. He can't sing, but be has been on the Glee Club for three years. He is Associate Editor of the Mariettana and General Manager of Athletics for 1922-23.

BROOKS H. ELLIS
"Ell"
Nu Phi
St. Mary's High School

"And when a lady's in the case,
You know all other things give place."

Brooks is the only one of the Juninors who steadfastly refused to have his picture taken. He explained that he didn't need to advertise; he is already married. That's all the explanations necessary. We can fully appreciate his uncomfortable position. Before he came here he had already become disgusted with Harvard and West Virginia University. Now his Uncle Sam is giving him a good education at Marietta for his services during the war.

CYRUS C. CORCORAN

"Ci"

Syracuse, N. Y. High School

"Now by two-headed Janus, nature hath formed strange fellows in her time."

Ci really graduated this year and certainly does not deserve the honor of being placed with the Juniors. But Ci is a strange fellow. He says he doesn't do such things as have his picture taken. Now, personally, we don't blame him—we mean, we don't see why not—but this is the result. Ci spent a couple of years at Michigan, and when he came here he knew so much that the professors were afraid to lecture before him, not wishing to display their ignorance.

ETHELBERT ADOLPHUS JONES

"Berty"

St. Francis' Seminary Academy.

"Innocence and virgin modesty."

Berty is a conscientious objector to fraternities on the grounds that they encourage dancing. He has won every scholarship prize yet offered, but he never saw a football game. Yet he favors Athletics and has exerted his influence to have an Inter-Collegiate Croquet Tournament held under the auspices of the College. He would have every student who touched moonshine expelled upon first offense, and has been known to furnish valuable information which lead to several such expulsions. He does not read the Orphan. According to the Administration he is the ideal Marietta College student.

Junior Class History

'Tis evening—the sun is beginning to set, sending a soft glow like mother-of-pearl across the sky. The turbulent waves have ceased their roar and I hear the lapping of the water along the shore.

The setting of the sun is symbolic of the nearness of the end for the class of 1923. Suddenly, in the solitude, memories crowd into my mind—memories so strong that I can no longer see the beauty of the setting sun nor hear the lapping of the water.

We have come a long way, it seems but yesterday that the class of 1923 entered the doors of Marietta College, in the Fall of 1919, 114 strong. The first year we elected Paul Lynch, President, Marjorie Strecker, Secretary and Harry Duncan, Vice President. "Deac" left us early in the year so we held another election and Sam Ward was chosen as our leader. The most important event of the year was the inauguration of our new President, Edward Smith Parsons, which took place on October 17th. We made ourselves known by wearing our blue and white caps in the Inaugural Procession.

The upper-classmen began to show their authority by making the girls wear their hair down, tied with green ribbons and by giving the boys the usual free hair cuts. In the class scraps we were beaten—likewise in the football game between the Sophomores and Freshmen.

We first had instilled in us the real Marietta spirit of loyalty and comradeship at the "Jam" reception where we met all Professors and upper-classmen.

We came to know the members of our class better at a party given for us by Prexy. The Dansant given by the girls proved to be a huge success.

And now we have slipped from under the despised title of "Freshmen" and have taken upon ourselves the duties of Sophomores. We chose as our leaders, Sam Ward, President, and Dorothy Williamson, Secretary. The class, ever anxious "to get back", started in at once to make the Freshmen walk the mark. We easily conquered in all the class scraps. Again we are entertained by Prexy and for the second time we enjoyed ourselves immensely.

We also took part in the first celebration of Founders Day on February 14th. In the spring the Sophomore Frolique was one of the big events in which the class had an important part. Then Cap and Gown Day approaches and the huge paper cow is brought into chapel causing no little excitement.

At last we are Juniors—with higher ideals than ever before in our college life. We elected "Bud" Chappelear as President, Joe Sturgis, Vice President and Maurine Krigbaum, Secretary. As Juniors we realize the responsibilities which rest upon us—our part in the Student Government and the publication of this volume. Our Junior year saw a number of dances given by the Student Body. These were instrumental in causing the Student Body to become better acquainted and to be more united in spirit.

The Junior Prom which we engineered is recognized as the most successful ever staged. Later in the year we were the originators of the College Picnic given on Cap and Gown Day at the Masonic Park. This is a new factor which brings out the co-operative spirit at Marietta.

As we look back, it is with pride that we recall that all things undertaken by us have been successful and that we have indeed lived up to our motto, "Omne bene facere"—to do all things well.

The growing twilight brings me back and causes me to realize that we are on the eve of being Seniors. We leave our record as a challenge to all other classes of Marietta College to come.

As Juniors, our sun is set! ! ! !

Sophomore Class History

Aboard the M. C., May 20, 1922.

We set out September 13, 1920, from "Freshman" on theTranscontinental Express, "Marietta College," bound for the wonderful city of "Graduation."

There are any number of great personages among the passengers that are taking the journey: Riley, Davis and Jones, three of the most eminent of the world's physicians; Nevada and Garbesi, journalists of note; Bradley, Jordan, Johnson and Donaldson, famous athletes; Ruth Russell, Edna Imhof, Josephine Miller and Howard Beebout, all are more or less stage notables; Dwyer, Arkins and Walter Wolfe, jurists of note; Linfield Davis and Goff Carder are well-known engineers who are with us. Of course there are many others whom I have not yet met.

Our first stop was in a strange and barbaric country, inhabited by most savage and monstrous men. As we alighted from the train we were set upon by these uncouth ruffians and deprived one by one of our curly locks. Needless tos ay we were glad to leave behind this wild country.

At the city of "Thanksgiving" we enjoyed our first stopover. A few of our number who came with us only to participate in the fall sports, bade us goodbye at this point.

The next station was one never to be forgotten: Sordid, murky, dark and damp "City of Examinations." A few days later we reached "Flunk," a small village but a very important trminal station, for here many of our number took other trains.

Our very able conductor, "Doc" Donaldson, aided by Brakeman Charles Nevada and Auditor Ray Brown, started us on the long lap that would bring us to "Summer Vacation." Had it not been for the efficiency of our crew we must have long ago abandoned our journey. They brought us safely through "Class Scrap," "Field Day," "Examination" and "Flunk."

In June we approached "Commencement," a beautiful oasis in the middle of a barren desert and reached only after suffreing much from the heat and dust. From this delightful oasis we dispersed to "Summer Vacation," where we remained some months.

On our return in September to the train we elected that our old crew should be retired on full pay and a fresh one appointed to take its place. "Sam" Dicken was chosen conductor; Clifford Johnson, brakeman, and Miss Mabel Bode, auditor.

Being of a somewhat fanciful and sportive nature, we decided to amuse ourselves by indulging in some harmless fun with a few natives of "Incoming Class." They were large, awkward, surly savages and resented very much our friendly advances. They poured forth upon us in overwhelming numbers, ravaging and devastating our entire body. Had it not been for the efficient leadership of Conductor "Sam" and the very hearty co-operation of our entir group, w would hav been lost.

We have now left far behindthe terminal point, "Sophomore," and will soon reach "Junior," if we all have the good luck to get through the ensnaring city of "Promotion."

In another month our journey will have been half-way completed. Although our original body of 126 has been decreased at almost every station, we still have 88 determined persons on board, most of whom expect to eventually reach "Graduation."

Freshman History

For the period of a day or two, the world stopped when the Class '25, one hundred and ten strong, filed onto the Campus one balmy day in September. The Sophs gathered in groups with envy and fear in their hearts, for they foresaw the superiority of their hated rivals of the future in all activities, and did we justify their belief? We did!

First we showed that we were capable of conducting ourselves in a dignified and fitting manner by submitting with pleasure to the wearing of the little blue and white caps, The Freshman Girls, true sports, came one day breezily attired in a conglomeration of black and white shoes and stockings, quite dazzling. Many were the comments of (now, ain't that the cutest ever), as the spectators beheld the beautiful long curls and wonderful abbage corsages. Then indeed were the Sophomores envious.

Our strength must not be overlooked for we outnumbered the class in mental ability and athletics. The Profs. look forward to our class both with delight and regret. With delight, for they offer the spice of life, variety; and with regret, for they know how soon we shall be graduated from the plane of this existence to a more advanced level.

In this recital of our wondrous deeds, our triumpth on Field Day must not be forgotten. In the tug of war we won two out of three and all the other events. The final score being Fresh. 4, Sophs. 0. The Cane Rush will never be forgotten by those who participated in it. It was a fight never to be forgotten. After a scrimmage, lasting an hour, the Fresh. succeeded in hanging the cane over the bar. Score F. 8., S. 0. In the tie-up we again came out victorious, there being only two Sophs. left on the field. Score: F. 12., S. 0. The football game resulted in a tie. But aside from Class heorism we were active in other activities. The Class of '25 was the backbone of all the athletic teams. We furnished worthy members for track, Glee Club, Debate and in fact all college activities. The Freshman Girls again demonstrated their abilities by managing the Tea Dansant. Besides proving a success this annual affair netted a sum of $25.00. With this the, chronicalends. But the world is destined to hear for greater things from the Class of '25.

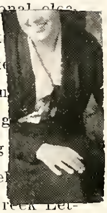
The Barbs Club

The Barbs Club is composed of all the men in school who do not belong to one of the Social Fraternities. During the past year it has developed from a merely formal organization of the Non-Fraternity men, made necessary by occasional elections of representatives to student activities, to a group held together by t ties of friendship and common interests. Under the leadership of the Presi Logan Lauer, the more complete organization necessary was perfected, a con was adopted and various activities were set on foot. The name was chang "The Non-Fraternity Group" to "The Barbs Club," the word "Barbs" being ened form of the word "Barbarians," a name applied by the ancient Greek Non-Greek peoples, and used in this case to distinguish the Club from the Greek Letter Fraternities. A room was obtained in the basement of Fayerweather Hall, and fitted up as a club room, where the members may go at any time to study or amuse themselves. Meetings are held at regular intervals, and are usually followed by an evening spent in games and other recreations. Athletic teams were organized and entered in the various intra-mural leagues. During a part of the year a scholastic contest was conducted by the Club among its own members.



All Non-Fraternity men in school are considered members of the Club. Its general purpose is to provide this group of men with an organization through which and with which they can work for the betterment of Marietta College, and incidentally, become better acquainted with one another. Extensive plans are being made for increased activities next year, and the prospect is for a very successful and enjoyable year.

ha Tau Omega

Founded t ember, 1865, in Richmond, Va., at the end of the Civil War, mids and bitter animosities of the time, Alpha Tau Omega was conceived as a means of healing and reviving, among college men of the North and the South, the bonds of fellowship and affection. And with this purpose ever in view, Otis Allen Glazebrook, Alfred Marshall and Erskin Mayo established the Alpha, or mother chapter, at the Virginia Military Institute at Lexinngton, Va., and the Beta Chapter at Washington and Lee University. The first twenty chapters were in the South, but in 1881 a Northern chapter was established at the University of Pennsylvania. Alpha Tau Omega was the first fraternity to unite the college men of the North and the South in the Brotherhood of a national fraternity. Since then Alpha Tau Omega has established fifty-five other chapters, making a total of seventy-six chapters in the forty different states, a natural growth, consistent with careful and thorough internal development of the organization.

Beta Rho, the local chapter, was established in 1890, but due to the trying conditions of the Spanish-American War, it was forced to surrender its charter in 1898. It was then re-established in 1920 when Alpha Digamma, a historic local fraternity, the oldest east of the Aleghenies, was granted a charter and is now known as Beta Rho Chapter of the AlphaTauOmega Fraternity.

The local chapter maintains its own club at 527 Fifth Street and at present the organization is in the best of condition under the capable leadership of its President, Walter T. Crandall.

Alpha Sigma Phi

Alpha Sigma Phi was founded in Yale College in the fall of 1845 as a Sophomore Society, where she continued for nearly two decades. This organization of Alpha Chapter was brought about by ten congenial classmates assembled under a solemn pledge to fight the rival Sophomore Society, Kappa Sigma Theta.

Kappa Sigma Theta immediately attacked her new rival through her publication, "The Banger," while the "Tomahawk" of Alpha Sigma Phi soon engaged itself in a vigorous counter-offensive.

Not only did the "Tomahawk" inspire raids on the strongholds of K. S., but it also handed the faculty many serious knocks, so that in 1852 all such publications were abolished by decree of the faculty. Meantime the Sophomores at Harvard became envious of the societies at Yale and applied to Alpha Chapter for admission to her mysteries. The application was recognized and in 1850 Beta Chapter was established at Harvard. In 1857 Gamma Chapter was created at Amherst and changed from a class society to a fraternity of the three upper classes.

Delta Chapter at Marietta was established on June 30, 1860.

After an interesting period of expansion terminated by the banishment of Alpha Chapter, when college faculties of the East became opposed to fraternities, the earlier chapters of Alpha Sigma Phi followed the path of many other chapters of national organizations by passing out of existence. Alpha existed secretly for many years, howerev, after a glorious career which witnessed not only the outdistancing but also the death of her rival, Kappa Sigma Theta, and the establishment of Alpha Sigma Phi upon her ruins as the most prosperous and famous of the old Yale class societies.

Upon Delta fell the duty of keeping the old spark aglow for a period of forty two long years. In fulfilling this duty she reflects much honor on herself and the name of Alpha Sigma Phi, and Delta may be justly considered the Mother Chapter.

In the fall of 1906 the Yale Masonic Club on becoming acquainted with the history of Alpha Sigma Phi, communicated with Delta in regard to re-establishing a chapter at Yale. A charter was formally granted by Delta at Marietta to Alpha at Yale and on March 28th, 1907, a delegation from Yale was initiated into the Mystic Circle at Marietta. This marks the re-birth of the fraternity and under the leadership of Alpha and Delta a policy of conservative expansion has been carried out so that there are now twenty-three chapters of Alpha Sigma Phi distributed among the leading colleges and universities of the United States.

History of Delta Upsilon

Established at Marietta, April 23rd, 1870.

The general social unrest of the early 30's was reflected in the colleges, and young men, chafing under the unfairness and overbearing ways of the secret societies, began to gather in loosely-knit organizations for mutual uplift and active cooperation against the evils that they saw in the college world about them.

Emphasis should be laid on the characters of the men who formed the first chapters of our Fraternity. They were not malcontents, unable to gain admission to establish societies; they were serious, thoughtful men, keenly alive to the injustice and the many evils about them that were protected by the secrecy of the fraternities of that day, societies as different from their present chapters as night is from day. These pioneers in the college world joined in a common cause, worked and suffered under ridicule as well as active opposition, and their triumph is seen not only in our own splendid Fraternity but in the sterling worth of the secret societies of today.

In Williams College there were at this time a number of young men who were working their way towards the pulpit or the bench; men rather older in years than the average under-graduate and therefore inclined to take a more serious view of college life, but keenly alive to the intolerable conditions fostered by the secret societies. Thirty of these men, (being ten from each of the 3 lower classes) met on the night of November fourth, 1834, in a class room of East Hall and formed a society destined to become the Mother Chapter of our Fraternity, under the name of the Social Fraternity, a name that was retained for many years.

The new society soon became a power in the college, and by 1838 had a membership of eighty-two, which was nearly two-thirds of the entire student body. And so was the beginning of Delta Upsilon. Today, Delta Upsilon is on a sound basis financially and governmentally. Its past has been splendid; its worth has been proven in the crucible of war, and only the future can tell to what greater heights of service to its fellows and to the nation it may be permitted to rise. The seed planted at Williams in 1834 has come to fruition.

Of the Marietta Chapter of Delta U; her beginning was much the same as that of Williams. The conditions at Marietta had become embarassing, not to say annoying, owing to the discriminations, slights and hard lines imposed on all those who did not choose to join their ranks by the two societies then existing here. They claimed for themselves the distinction of being the most secret societies in the country. In truth they were all that: no one knew where they met nor when, everything they claimed they would do, they did. So it can be seen that this chapter had its origin of necessity. A small group of men, feeling the necessity of an open society met in No. 9, South Hall, for the purpose of organizing a fraternity on March 18th, 1870. They were not particular whether open or anti-secret, having witnessed the workings of evil of a purely secret organization. After much correspondence, they were informed that Delta Upsilon would grant them a charter, and so on April 23rd, 1870, they were formally initiated into Delta Upsilon. The path of a new society was not one of roses, and many hardships were endured before they gained a solid foot-hold. However, before long Delta Upsilon had taken her place on the campus, and had become a power for good in the Literary Societies, a lead that was soon taken by the others. Delta Upsilon has maintained her place as a leader for everything that is worth while for fifty-three years and to be carried on to still greater glories by those who now wear the Badge. Delta U. has lived to see those groups that once so strongly opposed them, linger and die.

Nu Phi

In the fall of the year of 1916 the opportunity of filling the long-recognized need of another social organization on the campus presented itself. On October 10, 1916, fifteen undergraduates met in Fayerweather Hall for the purpose of organizing a fraternity.

The outcome of this meeting was Nu Phi. This move had the hearty co-operation of several Alumni of Marietta College, among whom were several former members of Eta Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta, which formerly existed in Marietta College. Their aid and support was given with the sincere hope of re-establishing Eta Chapter on the campus. This, Nu Phi hopes ultimately to attain; not, however, without great effort on her part, after decisively proving herself worthy of the desired result.

Immediately upon organization, Nu Phi took an active part in college affairs, and undertook to maintain high standards of scolarship and conduct. The room in Fayerweather Hall soon became too small for the organization and in December of 1917 they moved to their present home at 207 Fourth Street.

From the beginning Nu Phi has held a position of prominence in the student life of the college, striving always to stand for the ideals and traditions which Marietta College so ably represents.

Much is hoped for the future of Nu Phi. With her fast-increasing body of Alumni, whose steady hands are already being strongly felt in shaping her policies, and with co-operation in the constructive management of the affairs of the college, she will not fail to live up to and beyond expectations.

Tau Sigma Tau History

In the fall of 1920 a group of students of Marietta College, who, often gathering in the various rooms, of Fayerweather discussed various topics relating to the College and to themselves, soon discovered that they were of like temperament, that they believed alike fudamentally and were all striving toward the same end. Finally they asked themselves this question: why not establish a fraternity? And as a result on December sixth, nineteen twenty, it was announced that a new fraternity had been established at Marietta. The new members believed that in order to perfect a permanent organization, that it was necessary to develop a strong nucleus. And so for the first few months Tau Sigma Tau bent all its efforts towards perfecting itself, rather than to college activities. On February third, nineteen twenty-one, the Fraternity procured rooms at 215½ Fourth Street, and remained there for the semester. While there, ten men were duly initiated into the bonds of fellowship, and at the close of that year Tau Sigma Tau had twenty active members. Among these there were many who had entered into College activities. At the end of the year Nineteen Twenty-two Tau Sigma found herself entered in many activities.

Tau Sigma Tau was not founded with the idea of attaining the lofty heights of social distinction, athletic prowess, or even scholarship, but to develop the true standards of manhood and brotherly love. Thus far these basic principles upon which the Fraternity was founded have proven worth while, and it is with great certainty that we can say that they will prove to be worth while in the future years to come.

History of Alpha Nu Sigma Sorority

On the 28th of May, 1907, a charter was granted by the faculty to a group of seven young women composing the Alpha Nu Sigma Sorority, the first women's fraternal organization to enter Marietta College. Edith Stanley, now Mrs. B. F. Reiter, was the first president and meetings were held at her home for the first few months of organization. During the next school year rooms were opened for the use of the sorority members just off the college campus, and proved a great delight and convenience to the girls.

The next ten years showed no great change, only the growth in size and influence of Alpha Nu. Then came the World War. Several of the girls were actively engaged in service and the others "did their bit" at home. The sorority bought a Liberty Bond and in the fall of 1917 gave an informal dance for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Since the end of the war and the gradual return of conditions to normal there has been a decided rejuvenation of "pep" in sorority affairs. The active roll now numbers twenty-five and there is a strong and interested Alumnae Association to lend support when needed. In the spring of 1921 rooms were rented opposite the college and furnished by the girls as a meeting place and rest rooms. All meetings were held there and several delightful parties. They provided a center for the sorority activities and made a closer bond of fellowship between the members.

Alpha Nu takes a leading part in all college activities open to women and her social affairs are features of the college social calendar. One of the most interesting of these is the Musicale given annually by the active members early in April for the college and friends of the sorority.

Beta Theta Sorority

In 1909 there came into being in Marietta College an organization known as Beta Theta Sorority. From the moment of its inception until the present time it has held a place of interest and importance in the life of the College.

The aim of the Sorority has always been to pledge only those girls who would stand for the ideal type of College girl—attractive, cultured and able—and has grown from a charter membership of nine to a society embracing over forty-five members.

In 1921 when the College Endowment Campaign was started the Sorority pledged and paid one hundred dollars, aside from individual gifts of its members.

Last year "Fads and Fancies," a musical revue in ten scenes, was put on and enjoyed such a success that it was voted to make it an annual affair.

Yet Beta Theta, while engaged in a variety of interests, has never forgotten the most important side of a College Sorority, the social. Weekly meetings for business and a social time are held and many banquets, parties and dances have been given.

Last year bridge parties for the whole Sorority were held every two months and at Christmas time an elaborate ball was given, with decorations and favors in keeping with the holiday. It was spoken of as one of the most beautiful the city had ever seen.

In the previous fall a banquet had been held at the Lafayette Hotel at which forty members were present. Later in the eevning a theater praty was enjoyed.

Beta Theta Sorority is proud to be part of Marietta College and her activities hope only to add to the attractiveness of our school.

Omicron Delta

Omicron Delta Alpha Epsilon

On the first of January, 1921, with the coming of a new year, the Omicron Delta Alpha Epsilon Fraternity was organized by its nine charter members, and out of the dim, obscure past, became a reality. The officers elected at its organization were as follows: President, Helen Beltz; Vice President, Florence Hardy; Secretary, Gladys Chandler, and Treasurer, Lillian Cisler.

During the remainder of the school year ten additional members were received through initiation and the Fraternity secured rooms on Fifth Street, opposite the College Campus, where a delightful house-warming was held in the spring. A dinner dance was given by the members of the Fraternity on May 28 at the Lafayette Hotel, bringing to a close the first year of the Fraternity's history.

The opening event of the year was a weiner roast held on Strecker's Hill, Septembre 28, 1921, with a number of College girls as guests.

In November the members were hostesses of a "kid" party, given in honor of the Alumni members and pledges of the Fraternity, at which a mirthful evening was enjoyed by all who were present.

On the evening of January 3, 1922, the pledges of the Fraternity presented their annual minstrel, which event marked the beginnig of its second year of existence.

Later in January the members of Omicron Delta entertained at the Tea Room with a very delightful party, at which dancing and cards formed a delightful diversion.

The crowning social event of the year was staged April 28, 1922, when a formal dance was given at the Goshorn Gymnasium. Against a background of lattice-covered walls and a profusion of wisteria and under the glow of hundreds of multi-colored Japanese lanterns covering the ceiling, the members of Omicron Delta and their guests "tripped the light fantastic." At one end of the room under a quaint little pergoda, the Happy Jax Orchestra, in Japanese costumes, rendered the music.

A large number of out-of-town guests were present.

During its brief history Omicron Delta has contributed a commendable portion to the social calendar of the College. Its members are well represented in the various student organizations of the College, and in the various activities exhibit their loyalty to the Navy Blue and White.

The Mariettana.

Final organization of the Mariettana Board is now being completed, and selections for the permanent staff will probbaly be made before the end of the month. Plans have been made to introduce several features in the 1923 book which have not appeared in former Mariettanas. While these plans necessarily involve additional expenses, the editor and business manager have been able to reduce expenses in other lines to such an extent as to make it possible to publish a book in two colors at an only slightly increased total cost. A sectional dummy has already been made up and the business manager has completed contracts for the engravings; printing, binding and photographing.

PLAYERS' CLUB.

PLAYS DURING THE YEAR.

During the year The Players' Club presented a number of One Act plays; the kind of plays that have become popular throughout the country the last few years.

The reputation of the club has traveled far beyond the limits of the campus. An invitation was received from Oberlin to present their plays there at some time during the winter. The plays given during the year are:

MAKER OF DREAMS.
POT BOILER.
WURZEL FLUMMERY.
ADMIRAL PETERS.
THE INTRUDER.
TWO CROOKS AND A LADY.
ROSALIE.
SIX AND EIGHT PENCE.
THE GREEN COAT.

At Commencement, the custom of giving plays was adhered to and three were given for the Alumni and friends of the College. They were: Sham, Back of the Yards, and Admiral Peters. Also during the year, for the benefit of the club, The Strollers, of Ohio State University, presented Mrs. Bumstead Leigh, a delightful comedy that was given with true professional manner and the Ibsen plays, Ghosts and the Master Builder. The casts for these plays were professionals and the work of Mme. Hammer deserves especial mention.

Vickers, Full

ROBINSON'S LAST DIVE.

Mr. Griffiths came to us this year from Penn State College where he was a star on the gridiron for them. Griff built up a successful football team despite the fact that he had green men for the most part to pick. The department of Physical Education is under his direction and much was accomplished this past year in getting it started. Red has already endeared himself in the hearts of the students and with his help Marietta will continue to make herself felt in athletics.

Snavely was Assistant Coach in football and had charge of basketball and baseball. He made a favorable impression with the fans in his work and it is with much regret that he is to leave us for other fields. In his college days he starred on the diamond and gridiron at Lebanon Valley College.

CAPT. JOHN F. ROBINSON
Left Half

With their opponents fighting like wildcats on their two-yard line and the bleachers on their feet calling, "Jhonnie, we want Jhonnie!" was the time when Robbie invariably came through with a touchdown. Or with the Marietta team on her own two-yard line, it was Jhonnie who spilled the perfect interference and pulled the runner down for a loss. His flying dives for those necessary two or three yards were his specialty, and have gained for him the name of one of the best back field men that ever wore the "M." Leading his team to many victories, he finished his four years of service gloriously, yet retiringly. The name of Jhonnie Robinson will not be forgotten soon on the Marietta gridiron, and men will point to him for years to come as an example not only of a superb half, but a model of spirit and sportsmanship.

MANAGER YOUMANS

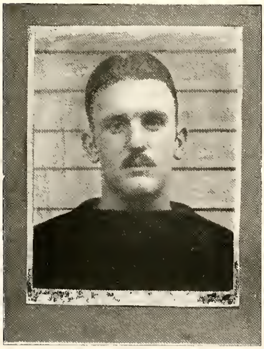
A difficult and trying position was Yomey's lot this year. But the job was not too big for him, although it necessitated hard work and being continually on the job. He deserves a lot of credit for the faithful way in which he worked for the team, and for his assistants, preparing them for a position for which they will have to exert themselves to the limit to fill, as well as he has.

"PECK" REITER
Left End

One of the few veterans of the team, Peck has played three years of hard and consistent Varsity football. He can hold down almost any position to perfection, and has tried most of them for Marietta. Look almost any place on the field and you'll see Peck, with his head stuck characteristically forward, digging with all his might for the ball. Always on the bottom of the pile, he as often comes up with a smile of satisfaction and goodnature over nailing the ball or the runner.

"AL" JOLLY
Left Tackle

Big Al was the greatest mainstay of the line with all his beef. Playing always a game of stellar variety, he never saw a line that was too large or strong to keep him from tearing to pieces. He never seemed to exert himself in keeping the runner within reaching distance, and when he reached for him his opponent either had heart failure or was unfortunate enough to die a more wretched death. Sad to relate, we lose him this year as he takes his place in the niche of fame.



RALPH HERDMAN
Right Guard

Herdy is one of those intensive players who stands away from his opponent with his head lowered, sizing him up through narrowed eyes and a moment later pounces upon the unfortunate victim and calmly and deliberately proceeds to pick him to pieces, bit by bit. He fights like a wildcat, but when he dresses up there is a faint glimmer about him that suggests the making of a man. He has three more years with us, at least.

"NORM" THOMAS
Fullback

Children enjoyed the games this year, having an affinity for the miniature elephant on the team, being Thomas. Once or twice during the season Norm didn't make a gain, but these occasions happened so infrequently that they seem to be no more than typographical errors, or oversights at the worst. It was great fun watching Norm trample his opponents to death, but it made such an ungodly mess on the field.

AMOS BLACK
Guard

Amos was one of those fellows you read about. He wasn't so well versed at the game at first but when he was shown there was no stopping him. He was always on the job and a harder worker was not to be found on the job. By next year we look to find him a regular. That smile of his is most deceiving for he really has a black heart.

"FIDDY" WEIHL
Quarter

Sit down, Whiting, here's a man that ought to make you look like a piker in the three more years he will play for Marietta. This year he led the team like a veteran, playing his utmost in every game and remaining faithful to his post throughout. He is well known in Marietta for his High School record, and draws the crowds to the games, mostly of the feminine of the species. He can't help his good looks.

"BO" CRAWFORD
Center

With a crowbar swinging expectantly in the air and a brickbat clutched nervously in the other hand, every once in a while Bo's opponents would venture onto the field when Bo lost his smile. The death expression of these luckless fellows were truly pitiful after he had had his affair with them. But Bo didn't lose his smile very often, fortunately, and so there were usually enough reserve visitors to finish the game. He has fought his way into the admiration of the team, and is captain elect.

"DAVE" SHAW
Right End

No football player ever said "Oh Pshaw" to Dave. If after an encounter they are able to say anything it is nothing as strong as that. Most of them say "Where am I?" Dave plays a good game and shows promise of being a great end. He is a conscientious worker and a hard player. What's more, he gets along well with everyone, foes and friends alike.

"HARD-BOILED" SMITH
Left Guard

Investigation of the liniment bill, which ran well into the thousands, showed that out of courtesy to the opposing teams, Marietta had supplied the liniment to soothe the bruises of the men Hard-Boiled had battered up. A good deal of this also went to his team-mates, for several of them complained of broken backs. Smitty had gotten excited in encouraging them. Thank Gawd (Mars, preferably) Smitty will be back for three more spasms.

"RACE" MYERS
Right Tackle

Race looks like a football player wherever he is. Big muscular and "hard." It's a good thing he is big, because it would take more than strength and skill to balance a line opposite center from Jolly. But Race has the skill and strength as well as beef and brawn, and holds down his position to perfection. Many a line plunge has been smashed up by this boy, much to the discomfiture of the opponents and to their loss as well.

WALTER WOLFE
Left Guard

One of the most ticklish propositions opposing back field men had to contend with. Wolfe had 'em all guessing until he received injuries which kept him out most of the season. He can boast a 90-horsepower engine. and he's geared low. He could open up a hole in two or three lines at a time big enough to place the Library in. His only objection is that he tears up the field every time he gets started.

OHMER BILLET
Right Half

When it came to speed Billet was there. He could run and dodge so well that his opponents saw double. and the course of his plays looked like a birdseye view of the B. & O. Railroad along the Muskingum. Every time he started out with the ball the fans thought he was on his way to Cuba he went so fast. But "Ohmah" came back every time and the visiting team was as many times disappointed.

"LIN" DAVIS
Cheer Leader

There are cheer leaders and cheer leaders, but there's only one Davy. When the students wouldn't stick with him, he'd lecture them so that we'd all be down in tears before he was through. See that face! Well, that's only one of the horrible results of the convulsions he went thru with each yell. He used to yell so loud that the workmen at the boiler factory laid down their tools to hold their ears. Come on now, boys—three rousy, rousing cheers for Davy.

THOMAS PUNTING OUT

Football 1921

The 1921 season rolled around to find almost every man newly acquainted with the Blue and White. Two new coaches were on hand due to the resignation of Neale and Kellison. The new heads—Griffiths, a Penn State man of wide football experience and Snavely of Lebanon Valley as an able assistant. With so many men of last year's team absent at the first call for practice, the coaches set about to form the nucleus for another strong team. Forty-five men reported, the largest turn-out in the history of the college, among them Capt. Robinson, Jolly, Donaldson, Wolf, and Thomas of last year's team. About these men a new team was built, which though not as formidable as its predecessor, was nevertheless a consistent and hard working team, that gave every opponent a fight for their money.

The Wonder Team 1920

Probably the greatest team that ever wore the Blue and White represented Marietta on the gridiron in 1920. By the string of victories and the fight handed Boston College, Marietta gained the notice of the greatest sport papers in the country. Don Whiting particularly drew much attention from the Boston papers as one of the best passers in the football world as well as a great kicker and a fine field general. He was given hnorable mention on Walter Camp's All-American Team, which shows that he was recognized as one of the leading quarterbacks of the year. Kay Hunter will also be remembered in years to come as one of the greatest ends, if not the greatest, ever produced by Marietta. As a hard and enduring player, he has the exceptional record of playing eight years of College and High School football without once having time out called on account of injury. So we might go down the entire list and pick out each as an individual star.

A world's record was made in the Boston game—seven first downs in seven consecutive plays. This is Marietta's third world's record, having already completed the longest pass on record, and Whiting's record of the highest number of points scored on the basketball floor in one season by one man.

This from the Boston Post:

> "Marietta flashed the wierdest and perhaps the most brilliantly successful forward passing exhibition ever seen in Boston. * * * Liston was the star for B. C., but Marietta had a greater star in her lineup. Whiting, the boy whom Western scribes claimed as being better than "Bo" McBillan of Centre College, was the star of the game. Three times at least he was called upon to punt from his own goal line, and each time he punted out well. His kicks were high and his speedy ends, Bullman and Hunter, and Reiter, had plenty of time to run down and nab the receiver.
> "But it was his brilliant forward passing that was the cynosure of all eyes. Standing well back he held the pigskin until the B. C. forwards were but a scant yard from him. Then dodging either to left or right, he snapped the voal, baseball fashion, to any one of the half-dozen uncovered eligible. He hurled almost two dozen passes, 50 per cent of which were successful, which put his team within Boston's 10-yard line on three occasions."

"Greasy" Neal in two years developed at Marietta a football team that proved to be not only the best eleven we ever had but one that made a national reputation for Marietta in Athletics. "Greasy" had an unusual ability to impart his knowledge to and fill his men with "pep" and confidence. He was a pastmaster at the game and it was with great regret that we saw him leave to fields of greater endeavor.

The Basketball Team this year, with the exception of one man, was composed entirely of Freshmen. Captain "Peck" Reiter, the remaining veteran, was up against a hard schedule with nothing but a green team. Taking all things into consideration, the men gave a good account of themselves and ought to make a fine team for the next three years.

"BIGLEY" BOGGS
Forward

Pete is a star of the water and would have undoubtedly made his letter had not the Dean interfered. His work on the floor was fast and he had an eye for baskets. He and Peck worked together well and it was certainly a shame the combination was broken up. However he'll be with us next year.

"FIDDY" WEIHL.
Right Guard.

Some fans wouldn't be surprised if Fiddy would back Don Whiting off the map as a quarter back, and it is entirely possible that he will do as well in basketball. He guards close and his specialty is to turn his back to his opponent, look for an open man over his shoulder, and calmly bounce the ball with one hand, while his forward is trying frantically to circumnavigate Fiddy's further extremity. He will lead his team next year.

"GILL" STULTZ
Guard.

Leave the "l" out of his name and you get "Stutz", which characterizes Gill pretty well. He could stick to his man like the car sticks to the road, and hitting it up to eighty was nothing for him. But we'd like to see anyone try to knock the "l" out of Stultz, except if we did see that (see him 'trying', understand) we wouldn't enjoy the mess after Gill had left. Good, he's only a Freshman.

"BO" CRAWFORD.
Right Forward.

Of course Bo can play basketball like a whiz—he's a Junior. He shakes the gym when he comes pounding down the floor with the ball gripped tightly in his paw, or tucked snuggly under his arm. If its against the rules that doesn't mean anything to him, for he plays above rules. Any way, he does more for the moral of the team than almost any other man.

"ART" LOCKARD, Guard.

This was Art's first year on the squad and the time he's a senior he should be a wonder. He was utility man for the guards and when he was put on a man he stayed with him, much to the dismay of his opponents. We expect Art to land a regular berth next year.

"JOHNNY" WALKER, Left Forward

Carl shot baskets like it was play for him and was about the smoothest running machine that appeared on the floor. He certainly did himself credit, considering it is his first year of college basketball. It's a good bet that he will develop into one of the most valuable men on the team.

"ART" WARD, Center.

They say that if the flea were the size of a man, he could jump over two or three Woolworth Buildings. If Art had his full growth, we hate to think how high he could jump. He'd make a flea look like a snail with both legs broken. But Art is neither a snail nor a flea, but just a mere little Freshman, so that he ought to make it hot for centers for three more seasons.

Left Guard.

They needed liniment for Smitty's basketball victims as well as those he massacred in football. Hardboiled—say, dat guy's so hard he bathes in nitric acid and dries hisself wid iron wool. He scares them to death with a look, and when they make a basket off him, they deserve the Carnegie Medal right.

CAPTAIN "PECK" REITER, Right Forward.

No kidding when we say that Peck was the backbone of the team. Out of the points scored, he was directly responsible for a large majority of them. Art Ward was runner up. And at that he didn't get into all of the games on account of objections from the gentle natured faculty. After three years of Marietta basketball, Peck has developed a style of playing that made them sit up and take notice. He often dribbled the entire length of the floor through the defense to score a couple of points for Marietta. And offense didn't hold on to the ball any longer than necessary when Peck was coming at them. He could shoot from any angle backward as well as forward, and has even scored with his back to the floor. He's a basketball player right, a finished product.

COACH SNAVELY.

Coash Snavely's job was not the easiest one in the world. In fact, it was probably the most difficult coaching proposition to be run against at Marietta for some time. All new men, to the college and some only recently acquainted with the game, they were not very promising. But better have them turn out well from a poor looking lot, as they did, than have them disappoint the college after promising much. Coach Snavely worked hard and earnestly with his men, and another season should find them whipped into pretty good trim.

"SHRIMP" CLARK, Manager.

Unusually well fitted for his position, in that he had the advantage of being connected with the local papers, Shrimp turned out to be a darn good manager. His work was surprisingly faithful and well executed, and he was ready for every emergency that came along. Such positions require a great deal of time and energy that is little appreciated except by the occupants. Now let's give Shrimp the credit that is justly due him.

1920-21 Basketball Season

While in most respects not a brilliant one, this year's season was nevertheless successful. The coaches, handicapped by the ineligibility of several of the stars due to stricter scholastic standards, produced a team that contained the characteristics of a typical Marietta line-up, one that fought to the last minute. The line-up was as follows:

W. Neale, Right Forward.
Herbert Reiter, Left Forward.
R. Neale, Left Forward.
Bullman, Center.
Hunter, Left Forward.
Eaton, Right Guard.
Smith, Center.

In Capt. Don Whiting, Marietta lost the best basketball player she ever had. Don had few equals anywhere and his name attained national fame. In 1916 he was picked by Frank Menke as the greatest basketball player of the year. That year he scored a total of 429 points in an 18 game schedule, a record that has never been equaled. In his last year he totaled over 300 points.

Girls' Basketball, 1922

The Girls' Basketball Team, after many difficulties, got under way before the season closed, and ended up with quite a snappy organization. Because of the delayed start and insufficient financial backing games were hard to schedule and the games were confined to teams not far from home. Under the coaching of Prof. Rea, the girls gave a good account of themselves and it is hoped that the organization can be made as permanent as coeducation.

SECOND ANNUAL OHIO VALLEY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT.

The second of these tournaments was held here in March, 1921, and was in every way a success. There were more teams in attendance than the year before, and it was shown that the popular interest in the tournaments was growing. The purpose of the contest is to advertise the college, and that this is an effective advertisement is shown by the enrollment of several of th members of participating teams and students from the schools represented.

Marietta High School had a tough fight in landing at the head of the list when the final whistle was blown, and had barely escaped a trimming at the hands of the Cambridge boys, who had been runners up the year before. Bellaire High School staged a comeback after having been drawn back into the contest by lots, and second honors were presented to that team. The whole tournament was a splendid exhibition of high school skill, and all the teams about on a par.

THIRD ANNUAL OHIO VALLEY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT.

Marietta College is proving with each high school basketball tournament held here to be a more successful and entertaining host. The 1922 Tournament was the means of showing over two hundred high school students the benefits to be derived from attending this time honored institution.

Twenty-four teams exhibited some mighty fine basketball playing to the crowds that packed Goshorn Gymnasium at each session. When Marietta High School carried away first honors of the fray, after defeating four teams on the same day, it was generally conceded that the beautiful loving cup presented by the college, had fallen into the hands of the best team of the tournament. Pleasant City was runner up and this team was also deserving of the second cup presented them by President Parsons.

Much credit must be given Mr. Griffiths for the successful way in which he handled the tournament from start to finish.

1921 BASE BALL.

Base ball at Marietta has never been of first-class caliber as long as we can remember. For some reason or other this sport has never taken well with the student body or the supporters in the city. However, in the spring of 1921 it was decided to try it out as a minor sport as the material in school looked pretty good; and sentiment for spring atheletics was strong on the Campus. Coach Kellison made the call for candidates, and a squad of twenty men reported. However, things were not to move so smoothly, for before long, trouble arose because of eligibility rules. Some of the most promising of the men were declared ineligible. This made a big gap in the ranks, for the remainder of the team were inexperienced. Our first game was with West Virginia University, our old rivals on the gridiron; and our showing there was, to say the least, not very good. Soon after, Kellison resigned and Frank Sutton an old graduate, was called to the rescue and we went on through the season. Much credit must be given him, as he possessed a spirit that made the fellows work, even if they did lack base ball knowledge. The result at the end of the season was not very gratifying, as to the scores made, but one thing was shown, and that was that base ball had come to stay as a sport in Marietta College. In a few years we should have a team worthy the name of Marietta.

TRACK.

Track is another sport that has been revived in the last two years at Marietta. In that time there has developed an interest in the team which grows to a considerable extent at the time when the inter-fraternity meet is being held. What material we have for a real team seems very good, but none of the men are veterans to any great extent, and it will be some time before we will be able to cope with the caliber teams we have met up to this time.

The 1921 season consisted only of the inter-fraternity meet, because organization was perfected so late in the season that a schedule could not be made out. The Delta Upsilon Fraternity took this meet with ease, and final tabulation showed that they had compiled twenty-eight more points than the nearest competitors, Alpha Sigma Phi.

The 1922 season started off with duplicate of the 1921 Inter-fraternity meet, and it looked as though there would be a team strong in the weights but slow on the track. This proved to be the case when we met Carnegie Tech for the first inter-collegiate meet for some years. The tam showed up to much better advantage against West Virginia University at Marietta, but it will take several years to develop a team that can take a meet against schools of this size. The interest of the students in the team, however, is good, and track seems to have come for a long stay.

SWORDS AND SABRES.

A new organization came into being this year at Marietta. This was fencing, which is under the direction of Professor Roney, a former star in his college days at Pitt. During the year several dances and exhibitions were given for the purpose of raising funds for equipment. It is planned that next year a Varsity team will be picked to meet the large schools in the east, such as Cornell, Navy, Columbia. Fencing is a sport that most schools are not privileged to have, as it is expensive and instructors are scarce. Marietta can well be proud to have this honorable and highly scientific sport established here.

The Inter-Fraternity Tournament for the Wittlig Trophy to become the permanent possession of the group winning it any two years, went this year to Daniel Archer, of the Barbs Club, who was the highest individual scorer.

Inter-Mural Athletics

Following various inter-fraternity games and contests that had occurred from time to time for some years back, the student council of 1920-21 appropriated funds for the purchase of trophies to be presented to the winners of these contests. These donations, called "loving cups," in appreciation of the magnanimous feeling between the various belligerents, represented the activities of basket ball, track, tennis and base ball. Immediately after this unprecedented and peace-destroying action by our noble legislature (promoted and prodded by the Marietta College political bosses), the combatants commenced a compilation of brick bats and brass knuckles with which to wage the gentle art of fraternity competition in athletics. After receiving blessings of the administration for not attempting a campaign on the football field, and being cursed by the hospital officials and Mr. Fuller for the identical action, the fun was on. First came the basket ball series.

The Beautiful Gymnasium, Where the Series Should Have Been Played.

1921 BASKET BALL—UNDECIDED.

The prospects of the Always Tight Omegas for winning the cup were very bright, for they had caged the baskets and copped the journey the year before. But the Awful Stigma Flies were not to be outdone—not by the Always Tight Omegas, at any rate, and saw their salvation, and the cup, in their high school pledges who could be drawn into the game. But at such action the Dirty Undershirts started their political machine, and as they were then in power in the managerial department through the fact that Honest John Kellison, the athletic director, took his beauty sleep each afternoon on their divan, it was not hard for them to string this gentleman along until it was time for the spring track meet. Through this bit of strategy, they succeeded in blocking the tournament and prevented the awarding of the cup. At commencement they reaped the benefits in receiving three out of four cups, instead of three out of five. They are to be congratulated in thus increasing their batting average through application of the principle that the pen is mightier than the sword.

1921 TRACK MEET—DIRTY UNDERSHIRTS.

This time the Dirty Undershirts were out for blood. Through their secret service organization, it is rumored, they were able to use certain chemicals in the food of their adversaries, which had the desired result. The result was a vry interesting and lively track meet, in which the D. U. warriors showed most of the interest and life. The Awful Stigma Flies were moving a little, and C. L. Johnson, of that fraternity, took high honors in the meet with two firsts, a second and a third. Jordan, of the winning aggregation, was behind him with two firsts, a third, and a fouth. Bullman gave the A. T. O's second place with two firsts and a tie for second. The standing was as follows:

1921 TENNIS—DIRTY UNDERSHIRTS.

By hardy manipulation, the Dirty Undershirts again laid their grasping hands on a shining loving cup, when they arranged a tennis tournament between the fraternities before the Varsity team had been chosen. Beach, Robinson, and Ward, of the Varsity soon-to-be were easily able to defeat any opponents sent against them, even though the Awful Stigmas had attempted to "string" the D. U. racquets into throwing the tournament. Osburn and Goe went down accordingly in bitter and decisive defeat. To get even with them for this foul play, Osborn pulled the wool over Beach's eyes, telling him (Beach) that if he (Beach) would make him (Osborn) manager, he (Osborn) would make him (Beach) captain for the following year. This explains the seemingly bad taste of the tennis team in their choice of executives.

1921 BASE BALL—ALWAYS TIGHT OMEGAS.

Now, when the base ball tournament came along, the Nude Fleas (so-named for their barrenness of athletic honors) thought they could manipulate as well as the Dirty Undershirts. But the Dirty Undershirts are so-called because their garments are symbolic of their souls, and as the Nude Fleas are all nice and white, they were not able to glide around so well without being seen. So when then they tried to hold the base ball tournament before picking the Varsity the D. U's (thinking at that time that they would run away with the trophy) pulled the same stalling game on Kellison they had pulled in basket ball, and with the same success. The Nude Fleas had all their good men on the varsity and could hardly scratch up a team with which to infest the diamond.

But the D. U's had not taken the Always Tights into consideration, and those bucolic minds conceived the idea of disguising Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb as Nick Azar and Shorty Crandall. Well, in the ninth inning, when the D. U's were about to administer defeat, which would tie three teams for first, these men stepped up and routed the game as well as the ball, and the series.

The A. T. O's went through their schedule without suffering a defeat. They had a well balanced organization. They were strong on the defense and a powerful aggregation offensively. Vorberg and Crandall did the hurling and Azar worked behind the bat. Captain Judge Eaton played first, Walter Crandall was stationed at second, Bullman covered third, while Red Smith smothered everything that went between Crandall and Bullman. The outfield, composed of Wolfe, Collins and Cram, all of whom performed brilliantly, both afield and at bat. Stacey and Hughes, the subs, played well when they were called upon.

1922 BASKET BALL—AWFUL STIGMA FLIES.

One of the most successful basket ball scrambles in several years left the Awful Stigma Flies on top of all the fraternities. The league was divided into two divisions or rounds (you see, we can't call them squares), and the winner of the first round was to play that of the second. The winners pulled their old gag of registering their alumni in college, so they could play on the fraternity team. The Dirty Undershirts did all they could to draw some of their men from the Varsity team, but outside of the captain, they didn't have any on that body of stalwarts.

And so the Stigs came out first in both rounds, making it unnecessary, if not impossible, to play a game between the winners as planned. The Stigs had a winning team of high calibre, having several high school stars on it, including Race Myers, who was easily the feature of the series. The Dirty Undershirts didn't do badly as second, having lost both games to the Stigs and one to the Awful Tights, who were especially tight on the defense. The D. U's fast and aggressive team had the best defensive team, however, in the league and reversed the tables on the A. T. O's, scoring 16 to 5. They failed to come across in a pinch and so they played the second Stig game under protest, but they only got "horse" and rode to defeat.

1922 TRACK MEET—DIRTY UNDERSHIRTS

The annual inter-fraternity track meet was held at the fair grounds, April 26. Due to the condition of the track, which was soggy after a day's rain on it, no official time was kept. The Dirty Undershirts came away victor with an overwhelming majority. This makes two years in succession the wearers of the Old Gold and Sapphire Blue have won the meet. They had easily the best team on the field as evidenced by the individual honors for high scores. These were taken by Jordan, with 15 points, I. Johnson with 13, and Jolley with 10 points. All three men representing the Dirty Undershirts. Jordan proved the class of the meet by his ability in the dashes. I. Johnson proved a thriller in the distance events with Clifford Johnson of the Awful Stigma Flies, a worthy second. In the weights, Jolley towered above the rest. A record of the events is shown below.

Dirty Undershirts—First	58 points
Awful Stigma Flies—Second	30 points
Nude Fleas—Third	20 points
Awful Tight Omegas—Fourth	19 points
Barreds—Fifth	4 points
Two Swigs—Sixth	3 points

1922 FENCING—BARREDS.

Much was expected from the Two Swigs, the new fraternity, which is the outgrowth of the Vol (um) steady act. But they failed to come through, chiefly because Archer, the Barred, was in the way. The Dirty Undershirts started counting their eggs before they were fried, and went out to kill. The result was one Always Tight carried out. Archer beat them black and blue in the broad-swords and stuck them all in the foils. (I mean with the foils). He was easily the individual star, although the whole exhibition reflected on the splendid work of Coach Roney.

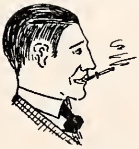
1922 BASE BALL—ALWAYS TIGHT OMEGAS.



Always Tight Hero
Nick Azar, an

For the second time the Always Tights blasted the hopes of the Nude Fleas and went through all the teams like a dose—I mean like lightning. The Two Swigs showed up well, while the Awful Stigma Flies and Dirty Undershirts covered an uncouth rear. The A. T. O's went so fast none knows what happened, but at any rate they deserved the cup they won.

1922 TENNIS—UNDECIDED.

Always Tight turned the tables on the Dirty Undershirts and caught them in their own net. Beach, Ward, and Crow, of the Varsity, could have won from any team the college or town could scrape up, so the Always Tight men first flashed a ruling that Varsity men were to be barred from the intra-mural contest. But that still left Robinson of last year's team; Reiter, who just missed this year's Varsity special, and Gumbert, a newly discovered wizzard. None of these men will return, so the logical thing for the Awful Tights was to do unto the Dirty Undershirts as they had done on two other occasions, so they stalled and stalled. Next year they can win the plaque.

A Dark Horse Among Tennis Sharks.

CONCLUSION.

This marks the close of the first two years of more serious intra-mural athletic competition. While some things have been amiss, the period as a whole marks a new epoch in college athletics. Where formerly only starts and huskies enjoyed the advantages of athletic exercise, now more and more men are drawn into sports which tighten muscles and clear the brain. This condition is to be encouraged.

But, on the other hand, we are still in a dilemma. While these advantages are forthcoming from intra-mural athletics, we see examples where Varsity calibre men are playing for their fraternities and not for the college. This condition is lamentable. There seems no way out except that fraternity men must remember that after all, the real thing is Marietta College, and not the fraternity, and when, after graduation, you recall college days, fraternity is forgotten for alma mater. The cup which a fraternity holds does not indicate the athletic power of that fraternity, the thing that counts is the number of men on the Varsity squad.

CALENDAR

1920.

MAY 20—THE DANSANT.

The first thing the class of 1923 did as a class was to put on one of the prettiest little dances for a long time. Of course, we wanted to do it up right, so we let the girls do it, and naturally the gym was never any prettier. An old-fashioned well, containing perfectly harmless punch, and covered with moss shaded by an arbor of green, had sprung up as a fairy fountain under a bower of leaves and spring flowers in Goshorn Gymnasium. Sweet little girls dressed in paper caps and aprons of the class colors, lavender and purple, served dainty refreshments. Under huge baskets of beautifully colored aris suspended from the ceiling and placed artistically around the room, the happy couples danced from 4:00 until 7:00 to wonderful music by a six-piece orchestra. With Marjorie Strecker, chairman; Maurice Krigbaum, Helen Newton, Gladys Kidd and Louise Stowe composing the committee, what more could one expect?

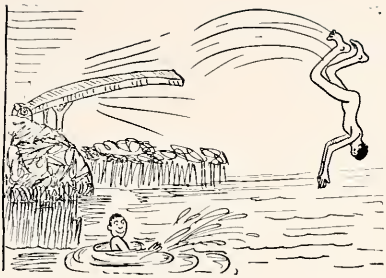
THE SOPHOMORE FROLIQUE.

One of the big events of the social calendar is always the Sophomore Frolique. Realizing this, and realizing that we, the Class of 1923, could not afford to make a failure of it, we succeeded admirably in holding up the reputation, even though we do say it ourselves. The Gym was decorated with green leaves and carloads of dogwood, which transformed this ordinarily unattractive structure into a garden of fragrant blossoms. Little tables with shaded lights were placed around the room to follow out a color scheme of our lavender and purple. Reed's six-piece orchestra from Parkersburg furnished music, just enough jazz to make the occasion lively, and just enough soothing melody to keep us from wearing ourselves out.

APRIL, 1920—FADS AND FANCIES.

A musical extravaganza with all its attendant attractions of interesting plot, good singing, and clever dancing was staged by the Beta Theta Sorority on the nights of April 19 and 20, 1921. The production was divided into nine scenes, two of which were short skits with clever plots and fine acting. The other scenes featured ballot and solo dancing with most elaborate scenery ranging from an Arabian balcony scene to an "Old Fashioned Garden" of New England, with its wealth of holly-hocks and roses. Forty girls, active members, alumnae, pledges, and prospective members of the sorority, with eight of the young men of the college and city, made up the personnel. The theatre-going public of Marietta are hoping and expecting that the Beta Theta will make this an annual production.



JUNE 13—SEPTEMBER 17—SUMMER VACATION

SEPTEMBER 23—JAM RECEPTION.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., the big get-together function of the year was held in the gym. The various organizations presented a variety of stunts in which the new students had little trouble in getting acquainted with one another.

OCTOBER 6—FRESH-SOPH SCRAP.

The Freshman sort of put it over on the Sophs, who win only the football game while they are losing the tie-up, the cane rush and the tug-o'-war. See the opposite page for particulars.

OCTOBER 13—WEST VIRGINIA-WESLEYAN GAME

Marietta puts it all over West Virginia. But that's just an old story. What really did happen to make this day famous was that the Orphan made her first appearance after having taken a rest of five years. She's here to stay this time.

NOVEMBER 8-9—MARIETTA IN TURKEY.

Professor Watson and Mr. Mills stirred up enthusiasm enough to push the Marietta-in-Turkey fund over the top. Dawes and Davis sold the "M" in a short time, which gave the American Board the amount needed for the support of Rollo Stacey, our representative in St. Pauls College, Tarsus.

NOVEMBER 19—Y. W. CARNIVAL.

Various organizations presented booths which contributed to a real carnival spirit. A five-cent dance continued during the evening, while Fatima and other notables performed. The Y. M. took in the most money with a candy sale (?) and the seven wonders of the world.

NOVEMBER 13—THANKSGIVING DANCE.

The first student dance of the year was held in honor of the Athens game, where our boys held the strong O. U. men for a 0-0 tie. The Blue and White Orchestra made its first appearance.

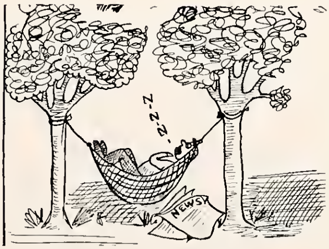
NOVEMBER 23-28—THANKSGIVING VACATION.

DECEMBER 2—THE GRIDIRON BALL.

The first formal dance of the year was held in honor of the football team. The Gym was festively decorated with Blue and White. Wright's Orchestra from Columbus furnished the music from 9:00 until 2:00, with refreshments at midnight.

DECEMBER 9—BETA THETA CHRISTMAS BALL.

The Armory was the scene of this ball, one of the most elaborate and successful dances for a number of years. During the evening Miss Evelyn Francis entertained with a solo dance, and Miss Louise Stowe sang several delightful selections. Dancing was furnished from 10:00 until 2:00 by the Mason Dixon Orchestra from Clarksburg, which has been received with the highest appreciation by the dancing set of Marietta a number of times.



DECEMBER 17—NU PHI FORMAL.

At the Lafayette Hotel, fifty couples, including alumni and visitors, enjoyed an eight-course dinner, followed by dancing until 12:00.

In Florida.

DECEMBER 23-JANUARY 10—CHRISTMAS VACATION.

JANUARY 25—FOOTBALL BANQUET.

President and Mrs. Parsons entertained with an elaborate four-course dinner about twenty members of the football team. Among other speakers were President Parsons, Coach Griffiths, Captain Robinson and Captain Eli Crawford.

FEBRUARY 15—FOUNDERS' DAY EXERCISES.

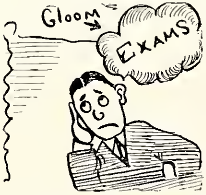
Judge Schram spoke in Chapel on the subject, "Building a Solid Foundation." Honorable Theodore E. Burton spoke before a large audience at the First Congregational Church. He outlined in his speech the growth and traditions of Marietta College and spoke at length on the great results of the Disarmament Conference at Washington. All the Founder's Day exercises were very impressive, as befitted the Eighty-seventh Anniversary of our institution.

FEBRUARY 3—A. T. O. BALL.

The formal dance of the A. T. O's was held at the Armory. The decorations were very expressive. Music was furnished by the Keystone Entertainers.

FEBRUARY 10—D. U. MID-WINTER BALL.

The D. U. fraternity honored its pledges with a formal dance at the Armory. About seventy-five couples enjoyed dancing until 2:00 o'clock.



JANUARY 25-28—EXAMINATIONS.

FEBRUARY 22—WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

All out for the day.

MARCH 11—MARIETTA COLLEGE STAGES TOURNAMENT.

Twenty-four high school teams entered. Marietta High wins championship of meet.

APRIL 6—ALPHA NU MUSICALE.

The Congregational Church was the scene of one of the most enjoyable musical entertainments of the college year when the Alpha Nu Musicale took place there on the evening of April 6. A large and appreciative audience filled the church to its capacity and the generous applause attested to the enthusiasm with which the numbers were received.

APRIL 17-23—EASTER RECESS.

APRIL 24—JUNIOR PROM.

Surpassing in beauty and brilliancy all college dances of former years, the Junior Promenade, which took place in the Armory on Friday evening, April 24, was one of the most delightful dances ever undertaken.

APRIL 28—OMICRON DELTA FORMAL BALL.

MAY 1—ALPHA NU SORORITY BALL.

"FADS AND FANCIES."

On the evening of May 4 and 5 Beta Theta presented its second annual musical revue, "Fads and Fancies," at the Auditorium Theatre.

MAY 6—Y. M. C. A. STAG.

The Y. Wreck was the scene of a stag party given for the men of the college on May 6, by the Y. M. C. A. Prof. T. D. Phillips, faculty leader of the Y. M. C. A., led in the activities of the evening.

MAY 12—SOPHOMORE FROLIC.

With the gym decorated in green and white, the colors of the class of '24, the University Six of Athens opened the Sophomore frolic with a burst of lively music. About twenty-five couples enjoyed the affair, which lasted from 8:00 till 12:00. Chaperones for the affair were President and Mrs. Edward S. Parsons, Professor and Mrs. W. L. Roney, and Professor and Mrs. George Blazier.

MAY 21—THE DANSANT.

One of the most pleasant dances of the season was held at the College Gymnasium on Saturday afternoon when the girls of the Freshman closs of Marietta College entertained with the annual dansant. One hundred couples were in attendance.

A young Californian often visited a leading Santa Barbara hotel because of its excellent honey.

When the young man got married the wedding trip included this hotel, so that the bride might taste this ambrosial spread.

But the first morning there was no honey on the breakfast table. The bridegroom frowned. He called the old familiar waiter.

"Where's my honey?" he demanded.

The waiter hesitated, looked awkwardly at the bride, then he stammered, "Er—Mamie don't work here no more, sir."

Would Your Records be Safe If Fire Came Tonight?

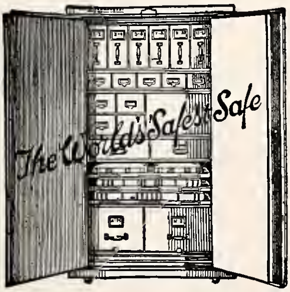
Your records represent years of time, labor and money. You could not continue business without them.

Are these records adequately protected?

Fire plays no favorites. Your records should be protected in

THE SAFE-CABINET

"The World's Safest Safe"



THE SAFE CABINET is the modern method of record filing and protection.

The interior can be arranged to meet your requirements. It can be removed or added to.

"Where do all the pins go?"

"It's hard to tell, because they're pointed in one direction and headed in another."

Teacher (giving lesson in church catechism)—Willie, what are the two things necessary to baptism?

Willie—Water and a baby.

Bobby (on his eighth birthday writes to his absent father)—My dear papa, whenever I'm tempted to do wrong I think of you and say, "Get thee behind me, Satan."

Photography

less than a century old—the youngest of the arts, yet the most important. Without it we would have no half-tones in this book, in magazines, in newspapers; no wonderfully illustrated catalogues. There would be no motion pictures, no scenes of distant lands brought to our fireside. And without it the time resisting image of loved ones could not be with us as it is today. Truly—we are proud of our profession.

Signs of Prosperity

The most popular and profitable places of business and pleasure are those in which electricity is used for the convenience and comfort of patrons. If you have not the comfort of electricity you are doing without the greatest aid to house-keeping.

Remember that it does not cost much to wire your house for electricity and it can be done without muss, dirt or disturbance of your household.

A telephone call (No. 130) will bring our wiring man. His estimate will place you under no obligation.

Stetson Hats

THE TALENT FOR SELECTING JUST THE RIGHT HAT

There are two reasons why two out of three men come to us for their hats.

One is that we have the best choice of Stetsons in this section—Soft Hats and Derbies.

The other is that taste which would almost make us rather lose a sale than have a man go out with a hat that fails to suit him just to the dot.

Corporal (to rookie, who is clumsily handling gun)—I told you to take a fine sight. Don't you know what a fine sight is?

Rookie—Sure, I know what a fine sight is. A boatload of corporals sinking.

A man was sprinkling sand on an icy sidewalk. At every step his hand dove into a pail and rhythmically spread the sand before him. A drunken man passing clutched the lamp post to get out of the sand man's way and watched with interest. "Poor nut," he called out. "That stuff'l never grow there in a hundred years."—Edward F. Welch, D. D. S., Boston, Mass.

"Do you know, sir, that your great bulky brute of a bull dog killed my wife's dear little, unoffending, etherial, heavenly pet poodle?

"What about it?" asked the big man.

"Well," said the little man looking carefully around to see that no one was spying, "would you be offended if I presented your nice dog with a new collar?"

(Heroine)—What are those shrieks?

(Villain)—They have tied an American to a chair and are showing him a bottle of Scotch.

An East India station-master had been cautioned to do nothing without instructions. That probably accounted for his sending the following message:

"Superintendent's Office, Calcutta.

"Tiger on platform eating conductor. Please wire instructions."
